HEAVENS ABOVE—IT'S THE ONLY WAY TO FLY

The instructions were "switch on," then "contact," and suddenly Jack Gardiner of Mill Valley was transformed from a salesman to one of those magnificent men in their flying machines. Called "Breezy," his experimental high wing pusher, in a design reminiscent of the early days of aviation made a perfect take-off from Marin County Airport today. It was hand built by two Santa Rosa mechanics and flew through the air with the greatest of ease. Gardiner, a salesman for American Airlines, said the 90-horsepower engine enabled his aircraft to reach from 50 to 100 miles per hour and gain a maximum height of 15,000 feet. San Rafael Man Killed On Mexican Vacation

Carpenter Dies On Highway

A skin-diving vacation in Mexico ended in tragedy yesterday when a highway accident claimed the life of a young Marin County carpenter and sent his wife and two others to a hospital.

Killed was William A. Kane, 24, of 109 Professional Center Parkway, San Rafael.

Recovering in a hospital at Toyan, Coahuila State, today was Kane's wife, Marilee, and two other members of their party, Dea Gilbert of 81 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, and Thomas Wyatt, a pre-medical student of Black Point.

ROAD OBSTRUCTION

A fifth member of the party, Bruce Robertson, a teacher at Santa Maria, Santa Barbara County, escaped injury. He was asleep when the accident happened at about 4:30 a.m. on the highway between Juan Aldama and Rio Grande in Zakatecas State.

According to a report telephoned today by Robertson to Kane's brother, James Kane of Fremont, an obstruction in the highway sent the car out of control and off the road. It rolled over several times. All but Robertson were thrown out.

BUS HELPS

A passing bus stopped, Robertson said, and took him to the town of Rio Grande, 15 miles away to summon help. By the time he returned, other passers-by had arranged transportation for the injured to Juan Aldama.

Robertson said there were no telephones in Juan Aldama and he had to make a three-hour drive to Toyanon to arrange

LBJ Expresses Anxiety Over Rising Costs

Urges Industry, Labor To Hold 'Reasonable' Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson appealed anew to capital and labor today to keep wage and price rises "within reasonable bounds."

At a news conference held in his office and carried to the nation by radio the President said: "I recognize that problems are bound to arise in a period of full employment."

He said that since 1960, prices have risen 10 per cent, wages 17 per cent and profits 83 per cent.

And he added "we are hoping we can appeal" for restraint, both to those who set wage demands and those who set prices.

OTHER NATIONS

Johnson said the inflationary rise has been much less than in some other countries. He asserted that recently he was talking to "the distinguished leader" of an unnamed country who expressed the wish that he could keep inflation in his country down to the levels of the United States.

Johnson was asked whether he had an explanation for a poll, which, the questioner said, indicated Democrats would rather have Robert Kennedy as the 1968 presidential nominee than Johnson.

Amid laughter, he replied, "No, I have no explanation."

PLANS TOUR

On another matter with at least overtones of politics, Johnson said he will leave Friday morning for Idaho, Colorado and Oklahoma—then: "I'm going to go home late Friday evening" and be at home Saturday and Sunday, "observing the results of 58 years of very pleasant existence."

Johnson was asked whether he would accept a loss of 41 House seats as a norm for the changeover in an off-year election.

Johnson said no, he was only familiar with a California election where Democrats have picked up a seat.

BATTLE BEGINS ON PENINSULA ANNEX

Balmer Knocks Tiburon's Lack Of Fire, Police, Park, Recreation Departments

Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert Balmer fired off a salvo today in the Battle for Strawberry.

The Tiburon City Council Tuesday night voted to initiate action to annex all the Tiburon Peninsula not now within city limits. It acted because of reports Balmer was wooing the Strawberry Shopping Center for annexation to Mill Valley.

Today, Balmer replied with this statement:

"I am happy that my preliminary investigation of the possibility of annexing land in the Strawberry area has provoked the City of Tiburon into getting off its bottom. It's about time it decided to do something for itself.

"I believe that the strawberry area should be in a city. I believe that property owners and residents in Strawberry should have a chance to decide which city — Mill Valley or Tiburon — they wish to be in.

"If they elect to join a city which has no police department, no fire department, no sanitary sewer department, no planning department, no public works department, and no parks and recreation department, they have my best wishes and my sympathy.

"Tiburon is an embryo city government looking for a city. If it should annex the whole of Strawberry Point, it will be a strange city indeed, for it will have a sheriff's patrol but no city police department, two fire districts but no city fire department, three sanitary districts but no city sewer department, three lighting districts but no city lighting department, a recreation district but no city recreation department, and three flood control districts."

If Tiburon hopes to annex the whole peninsula, it has a long road ahead.

Hospital District Ups Employee Pay Scales

Marin Hospital District Board last night voted raises and fringe benefit increases costing $91,980 a year to Marin General Hospital employees at recommendation of the hospital's personnel committee.

The committee recommended no raises for nurses, who received a salary increase Aug. 1, and there was no objection from the audience of more than 30 persons.

The committee said last night's raises and those granted to the nurses earlier will cost the hospital a total of $336,428 a year. The $6 a day increase in hospital room rates made when raises for nurses were granted will raise approximately $328,500 a year, they said.

Administrator Ray K. Bolinger said the difference of $7,928 will be made up with more efficient operation of the hospital.

The board acceded to a demand by Marin County Supervisors that bidders on the community mental health center be required to show a plan insuring non-discriminatory hiring before the contract is let. If the county deems the plan inadequate, the contract would go to the next lower bidder with an acceptable plan.

The board warned that the state and federal governments will pay their shares only of the lowest bid, though, if that bidder meets state requirements The board said the district, too, will pay only its share of the lowest bid in such a case.

Marin Hospital District Board also:

1. Agreed to call for bids for air conditioning of a portion of the hospital laboratory and a major portion of the emergency room, estimated to cost $32,400. Bids will be opened Sept. 13 at an adjourned meeting of the board.

2. Approved three more projects, to be undertaken as funds are available: Remodeling of emergency, estimated cost $15,900; construction of a temporary psychiatric unit on the third floor, $7,526; construction of an electro-encephalograph laboratory, $8,540.

3. Officially appointed Bolinger as administrator of the hospital.

Director Gwendolyn M. Campion was absent.

Inflation Hits Marin Auto Insurance Bills

Many Marin motorists will pay more for their car insurance starting today — nearly 10 per cent more.

The National Automobile Underwriter Assn. and the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters today adjusted the advisory auto insurance rates in California for their affiliated companies, which write about 20 per cent of the automobile business in the state.

In Marin County, the premium rate is raised 9.3 per cent, second highest boost in the state, bested only by a 10.5 raise in Riverside County in Southern California.

This means that an "average" childless middle-aged couple, driving an "average" 1965 car, who have paid about $154 for comprehensive collision full coverage, will have to pay about $169 when they renew their policy.

Much higher premium rates, for teen-age drivers, for instance, will be boosted 9.3 per cent too.

Independent Insurance Agents Assn. of Marin County blamed Marin's increase on several factors. The association cited several recent high damage awards in local traffic accidents, particularly one for $375,000 in Corte Madera; steadily increasing commuter traffic on Highway 101, and the increasing cost of repairing damaged automobiles.

The two rating organizations said the primary reason for the increase state-wide has been the continually higher cost of repairing automobiles. Contrary to Marin's experience, they noted

Marines In Heavy Battle With Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines hunting Communists along infiltration routes south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam fought a heavy, 12-hour battle today with a force of North Vietnamese troops, a U.S. spokesman announced.

Company-sized elements of the 4th Marine Regiment met late yesterday with Communists well entrenched in fortifications and caves in the hills of the Cam Lo River valley, 18 miles west of Dong Ha and five miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The engagement was described as heavy until about dawn today, and then tapered off to light and moderate.

The 173rd Airborne Brigade was flown in helicopters into Phuoc Tuy Province after U.S. Marines and Australian forces found evidence of the Viet Cong 5th Division.

The Saigon River channel between the capital city and the South China Sea was reopened to traffic today.

Youth Committed After Wild Fight

A 19-year-old Pacific Palisades youth was committed to Napa State Hospital today by Sausalito police after a wild fight last night to arrest him while he apparently was on an LSD "trip."

After a 72-hour psychiatric observation, Jerry G. Koslowf will be charged with battery on a police officer and resisting arrest, Sausalito police said.

The incident started at about 10 p.m. when patrolman Philip Petty was stopped on Bridgeway by a man who reported "a long-haired beatnik" had jumped in front of his car on Bridgeway near Spring Street.

Checking the report, Petty saw Koslowf walking on Bridgeway. He asked Koslowf for identification.

Cursing at Petty, Koslowf tried to yank the officer's badge off his shirt, then refused to get into the car when Petty told him he was under arrest, the officer reported.

According to Petty, Koslowf shouted: "I'll show you the way I'm under arrest. This is the way I'll go." With that, Koslowf grabbed Petty and tried to take his pistol out of his holster.

Petty stunned Koslowf with his night stick, but still was un-

Forest Knolls Seaman Survives Red Mine Attack, Credits Army

A Marin officer aboard the Baton Rouge Victory has credited quick work by two Army landing craft with preventing the ship, struck by a Viet Cong mine in the Saigon River, from sinking with all hands.

Chief Mate Lucien B. Vincilione of Barranca Road, Forest Knolls, was interviewed by Associated Press writer John Nance aboard the crippled ship Tuesday night.

The two four-engine landing craft were cruising upriver when the Baton Rouge hit the mine. They rushed to the ship and pushed it to shore.

Nance quoted Vincilione:

"They got to us just in time. After the blast we were helpless. Our steering was gone. We were drifting.

"It is very likely we would have gone down right there if we hadn't had help. When the LCM nudged into us, the ship buckled. I figured right then that our back had been broken."

Vincilione was one of two Marinites reported aboard the Baton Rouge. Both escaped unhurt. The second, Robert Cain, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cain of 75 Halfmoon Road, Novato, was making his first trip as an ordinary seaman.

The senior Cain, who is employed by American Steamship Lines, said his son had wanted to work in the engine room. His father talked him out of it.

Factory Blast Victims Sought

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Giant cranes clawed at the rubble of a wire factory's executive building today in search of three bodies believed buried by a massive explosion.

Two bodies were removed after the blast yesterday. Officials of the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products Corp. said they were certain the death toll would not exceed five.

Unofficial estimates of the loss were more than $5 million.

Two persons aiding in rescue operations were stricken with fatal heart attacks.

Eighteen persons were injured, three of them critically. Most of the building's 90 employees had left for lunch shortly before the explosion tore into the midsection of the two-story structure.

Some employees had complained in the morning of a gas odor, and two women became nauseated, authorities reported.

Harley Jensen, division manager for Northern Indiana Public Service Co., said the utility had received no complaints of leaking gas at the plant.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Mercy Cable Sent

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Leaders of four Pakistani political parties have cabled Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser asking mercy for seven Moslem Brotherhood leaders sentenced to death for conspiring to assassinate him.

Youth Club Red

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Communist party leader Gus Hall said today his party is playing a leading role in American left-wing student organization. He said in an earlier interview that one of these leftist youth groups, the DuBois Clubs, openly espoused Marxist-Leninist Communist theory." Many of the DuBois Clubs members have joined our party."

Split Plot Denied

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has denied it is trying to split up turbulent Nigeria on a tribal basis and counter-charged that "imperialist powers" are trying to do so.

Secret Fuel Fund

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A top-secret "fighting fund" has been established by the South African government to ensure the country is never without at least 18 months' fuel supplies, Johannesburg's antigovernment newspaper, the Rand Daily Mail, reported today.

Vaccine Donated

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —The Canadian government presented the Vietnamese Ministry of Health today 500,000 doses of antipolio vaccine.

Encephalitis Hits Japanese Children

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese health authorities said today enecephalitis, the dreaded sleeping sickness, has taken 384 lives so far this year out of 1,616 cases throughout Japan.

Thirty-nine prefectures out of 46 throughout Japan have been designated as danger districts. Most cases involve children, authorities said.

German Military Crisis Looms

BONN, Germany (AP)—A head-on clash between military and political leaders brought West Germany to the brink of a crisis today.

The row was fanned by an argument over allowing servicemen to join a labor union.

Trettner

The dispute took on new urgency yesterday as Gen. Heinz Trettner, 58, commander in chief of the armed forces, asked to be retired, saying he objected to Van Hassel's decision of Aug. 2 to allow soldiers, airmen and sailors to join the Public Services and Transport Workers Union.

Trettner's request came a day after the ministry suspended the air force chief, Lte. Gen. Werner Panitzki, for criticizing the government and its purchase of the air force's crash-prone F104G Starfighters. Panitzki charged the plane purchase was inspired by politicians and said the Defense Ministry needed to be reorganized.

German political observers viewed the row swirling around the two generals as a crucial clash between the military and ruling politicians, who have made great efforts to keep the 430,000-member armed forces under civilian control since the country was allowed to rearm in the middle '50s.

Yorty Confident Of Aid Share

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mayor Samuel W. Yorty was reported confident today Los Angeles could win a share in a potentially vast federal aid proposal, despite Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff's charge that the city government is ill-equipped for its tasks.

Yorty

At one point, Ribicoff told Yorty: "Los Angeles brags all over the country about how big and rich you are, what you stand for. I would say that the City of Los Angeles right now from what you've said doesn't stand for a damn thing."

Yorty replied: "We're a great city."

At another point, Kennedy said while Yorty might not have responsibility for some things in his city "you are the mayor and it seems to me we could expect some leadership from you."

Yorty retorted, "I don't need any lectures from you."

HAMPTON, Va. (AP)—At the age of about 4½ billion years, Mother Earth has been the subject of a photograph—but she'll have to wait a while to see if its a good likeness and even whether the photo was taken.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration commanded Lunar Orbiter to snap the photograph yesterday as it circled the moon 240,000 miles from earth. The command called for the photo to be stored on tape in the 850-pound spacecraft. It will be transmitted to the deep space receiving station at Goldstone, Calif.

They believe it will show a gradual shading from light to dark, rather than a well defined line as is evident on the moon, because of the diffusion of sunlight by the earth's atmosphere.

There is some question, however, whether Lunar Orbiter's camera actually snapped the picture. Space agency officials re-emphasized last night that the orbiting photographic laboratory, a success in other respects, has taken poor photographs with its high- resolution lens.

While photographs taken with a lens that shows greater areas — with less detail — have been clear, the closeups taken by the high-resolution lens have been blurred. They have failed to show the surface details necessary to select landing sites on the moon for American astronauts, the NASA officials said.

The trouble in essence has been that the film has moved while the shutter was opening and closing.

Lunar Orbiter's mission, however, is continuing on schedule and today, on its 21st orbit, it was to snap photographs of another possible landing site for the Apollo astronauts. It is in an orbit that brings it as close as 33 miles from the lunar surface and as far as 1,153 miles.

General Worried Over High Toll To Viet Nam Civilians

SAIGON (UPI) —Gen. William C. Westmoreland, gravely concerned at the rising number of civilian war casualties, has set up a board to review control procedures for American firepower, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

Nearly 400 civilians have been killed or wounded in the past two months by American weapons. Most of the casualties have been simple errors. But one or two have been caused by violations of already existing procedures in the use of weapons of war.

A spokesman said 157 civilians have been killed and 241 wounded since July 1.

"Let one fact be clear," Westmoreland said. "As far as the United States Military Assistance Command in Viet Nam (MACV) is concerned, one mishap —one innocent civilian killed, one civilian wounded or one dwelling needlessly destroyed, is too many.

"By its very nature, war is destructive, and historically civilians have suffered. But the war in Viet Nam is different. It is designed by the insurgents and the aggressors to be fought among the people, many of whom are not participants in, or even closely identified with, the struggle," said Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

'People, more than terrain, are the objectives in this war, and will not and cannot be callous about those people," he contended.

"We are sensitive to these incidents and want no more of them. If one does occur — mistake or accident —we intend to search it carefully for any lesson that will help us improve our procedures and our controls.

"We realize we have a great problem and I can assure you we are attacking it aggressively."

Dallas Encephalitis Toll Rises; Spraying Speeded

DALLAS (UPI) —A sixth person has died here of encephalitis and 89 other persons have contracted the mosquito-carried disease, heal official said yesterday.

Six twin-engine Air Force planes converted into mosquito bombers were to bomb more of the county with insecticides today to kill the insects before more persons are infected.

High winds yesterday caused the C-123 to cut short their bombing runs but authorities said about 75,000 more acres of the county had received coatings of Malathion insecticide.

The downtown area will be sprayed by trucks because of the danger of the tall buildings to the low-flying aircraft.

The latest death was that of a 74-year-old woman in suburban Lancaster who died late Monday. Dewlett said six more new cases of the disease were reported yesterday.

Marquette Skeleton Speculation Dampened

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University archeologist Lyle Stone has put a damper on speculation that a skeleton found in this Upper Michigan community was that of Father Jacques Marquette, famed Jesuit priest and explorer.

Stone said yesterday he is "almost certain" the bones found in a grave last weekend were those of Indians.

Police Find Edgewater Holdup Checks In City

Inspector Harold Hockett said the money was found in the apartment of one of two men being held on robbery charges by San Francisco police.

The other man, who told San Francisco police he was Donald Jacob Jolson, is actually Ronald H. Berg, 21, one of two men already sought on warrants in connection with the Corte Madera stickup.

Hocket and officer Charles Brobeck of Corte Madera said they will connect Berg and Michael Henry Honack, 18, the man with the checks, with Paul Allen Poindexter, 27, the Sacramento man already in Marin County jail charged with taking part in the Edgewater robbery.

Marin county sheriff's officers said today that Poindexter has been identified by five persons as one of three bandits who also held up Franchini's Chateau north of San Rafael on Sept. 21.

Hockett and Brobeck said they did not see the two men in San Francisco city prison yesterday and did not realize that Jolson was Berg until they returned to Corte Madera and compared a police photo of Jolson with one of Berg.

Berg is also wanted for jumping $2,750 bail in Marin Municipal Court on charges of attempted burglarly and concealing stolen property.

Hockett said he matched Berg's palm prints with prints found on the office safe at the Edgewater Inn.

San Francisco police are also holding two weapons and a hat which motel clerk Milo Johnson identified as being used in the robbery at the Edgewater Inn, Hockett said.

Sheriff's officers said the San Francisco apartment search also disclosed a cash box identified as the one taken from the safe at Franchini's Chateau.

Guard Will Be Called For Cicero

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Otto Kerner said today he will activate the Illinois National Guard this week in preparation for a scheduled march of civil rights demonstrators into Cicero Sunday.

Gov. Kerner said he probably will issue an executive order Friday to move the troops onto the street Saturday or Saturday night.

Kerner did not say how many troops would be activated.

The governor made the announcement after a meeting with Cicero officials, Sheriff Richard Ogilvie of Cook County, and National Guard commanders.

Kerner said he was told Cicero does not have an adequate number of policemen to maintain order.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has said civil rights marchers will move into Cicero, considered the most hostile all-white community in the Chicago area, Sunday.

Cicero, the headquarters of the old Al Capone gang during the Prohibition era, was the scene of intense rioting in 1951 when a Negro family rented an apartment.

In Chicago a force of 200 civil rights demonstrators dodged bricks and bottles yesterday night in a Southeast Side neighborhood, then attended a rally where Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., repeated his intention to march to Cicero Sunday.

San Anselmo Gets Tax Rate Cut

San Anselmo City Council last night set a tax rate of $2.06 per $100 assessed valuation an 18-cent reduction from last year's rate of $2.24.

The action overruled a recommendation by City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt that the rate be $2.20 and that $34,000 be added to the budget as the first of three payments for a new main firehouse.

Flautt told the council that the fire station could be built this year and completely paid for in three years.

The $2.20 tax rate was the figure the council tentatively set after adopting the budget. It was based on an estimated assessed valuation of $23,800,000.

Flautt said last night that the final figure from the county assessor's office put the valuation $2,386,850 higher, allowing the drop of $2.06 or provision for construction of the new firehouse.

On a separate motion, only Mayor John M. Reichmuth voted for $2.20 tax rate and building the fire station.

"You just think you have a gimmick that you can use to slip a higher tax on the people," said Councilman Robert M. Scott.

"We have to do all we can to help the taxpayers this year," said Councilman Arthur W. Smith.

Vote on the motion to set the tax rate at $2.06 was unanimous.

INSURANCE

The Marin insurance association noted that Marin drivers still will pay substantially less than San Francisco residents. The basic rate on which the lowest "10/20" bodily injury,property damage insurance is based has been $74 in San Francisco, and $41 in Marin County. San Francisco's rate will be raised by one per cent under the new computation, against Marin's 9.3 per cent hike.

Insurance premiums are based on the county in which the car owner lives, not where he drives, said an association spokesman. "If a Marin resident has an accident in San Francisco this is reflected in Marin's rates, not the city's.

Under the new ratings announced today most California counties recorded a raise of around five per cent. Humboldt County's rate dropped 5.1 per cent.

Insurance companies not affiliated with the NAUA and the NBCU review their loss experience and adjust rates as needed at other times of the year.

able to handcuff him as he continued to struggle.

Patrolman Brian Newlon arrived and the two shoved Koslowf into the patrol car. On the way to the police station, said Petty, Koslowf tried to kick out the car windows, screaming: "I want some acid, LSD. Give me some hard stuff, heroin, morphine. I don't care what it is; I want some dope."

While being held in the restraining cell at the police station, Koslowf beat his head against the floor, screaming, "I'm taking a bad acid trip and I'm dead."

ANNEX

steps, first of which may be taken at a special city council meeting called for next Wednesday:

The city must file an application requesting a hearing by the Local Agency Formation Commission. With the application the city must submit a map and description of the proposed annexation and a satement of the city's reasons.

If, after a hearing, the commission approves, proponents may circulate petitions in the areas to be annexed.

If 25 per cent of the registered voters sign the annexation petitions, the city council must then hold a public hearing.

At the council hearing, if owners representing 51 per cent or more of the assessed valuation of the desired land protest, the annexation attempt fails. If 51 per cent or more approve, the city can call an election. The Local Agency Formation Commission may decide whether the election will be only among residents of the unincorporated areas to be annexed or include residents of Tiburon also.

Sausalito City Councilman Jan Paul Dyk, chairman of the commission, said today the commission will act on "any properly processed application." He said no member of the commission has discussed the proposed annexation moves with anyone.

"I don't want to get involved in any vendetta between Rose and Balmer," said Dyk.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night added its own bit to the battle. The commission agreed that urban services should be provided to the Strawberry area by a city. It didn't say which city.

Federal Plans Causing Ills— Oakland Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mayor of Oakland, Calif., charged today that federal programs are the cause of some big city ills — and complained that government bureaucracy and red tape are hampering efforts to cure them.

John H. Reading put those complaints before a Senate panel investigating the afflictions of the city.

"I believe that the federal government has a real responsibility in aiding cities with their problems," he said. "Justification for this comes from the fact that many federal programs have been at the root of our cities' ills."

For one thing, he contended the Federal Housing Administration's mortgage insurance program has encouraged a mass migration to the suburbs by middle-class city dwellers. For another, he said federally aided highways have hastened the movement while taking taxable land off the city rolls.

"The present welfare program perpetuates the ghettos and throw the burden of decent housing upon the core city," Reading said. "The welfare program has done little to rehabilitate the povery stricken."

Reading said Oakland is hard at work to deal with problems of unemployment and poor housing, with $87.4 million in federal assistance.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., presiding over the hearing, said administration estimates of total federal aid to help the cities range from $13 billion to $28 billion, and he contended the estimates are inflated.

He said the higher figure includes federal mortgage insurance and other programs that do nothing for the underprivileged of the city slums.

Reading told Ribicoff's subcommittee on executive reorganization that almost every American city faces financial trouble.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles, appearing yesterday, had said extravagant promises from some politicians produce new demands from the people of the slums, and when the promises are not kept, violence sometimes results.

SHIP

were among the seven killed in the explosion.

Although the two Marinites escaped, there were two Bay Area men among the seven dead, Vincilione's wife, Agnes, was informed by an official of States Steamship Co., which operates the Baton Rouge Victory under charter.

Vincilione was in the wheelhouse, three decks above the main deck, when the mine exploded. With him were the ship's captain, Konrad Carlson of Seattle, and the river pilot.

"The blast came straight up," Vincilione told Nance. "It knocked all of us off our feet and tore the compass from the floor and bashed it against the ceiling.

Vincilione said he dashed from the wheelhouse and saw debris and rubble flying from the engine room. Control of the ship was gone.

Crewmen began rushing to their stations. "They were great. We couldn't have had a better crew," Vincilione said.

It was the Forest Knolls officer's second escape in Viet Nam waters. Just under a year ago, it was rumored that the Young American, an ammunition ship on which he was then third officer, was sunk at Saigon.

The rumor proved untrue, based on the fact that as the Young America anchored, men poured from a sampan alongside onto the ship. It opened fire on the sampan but one of the Vietnamese had got aboard and attempted sabotage.

Subsequently, Vincilione assisted in supervision of "demothballing" the World War II vintage Baton Rouge Victory at a San Francisco shipyard and has been aboard since its first sailing on Feb. 28.

Reynolds said the meat was stolen from a freezer in his unlocked garage while he and his wife were away.

Hub City Names Group To Search Federal Aid

Representatives of the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development spoke of urban renewal and other federally financed projects to the San Anselmo City Council last night.

After listening to a brief outline of their financial aid programs, the council appointed a six-man committee to work with the federal officials and decide which of the city's needs are eligible for federal assistance.

Assigned to look for the federal money were city engineer Charles R. Leitzell, park and recreation director Andrew J. Snyder Jr. and four residents of the community: James McDonald, Daniel Goltz, Mozart Kaufman, and Harold Watkin.

Theodore Kazmier, acting area coordinator for the urban renewal division of the department, said federal funds available to the city might include those for redevelopment of the downtown business district, park development, and planning and construction of a storm drain system.

The council agreed that the park and recreation department can have $1,000 for preparation of a preliminary plan for development of the Sorich Ranch.

They suggested the plan might also show what land on the ranch is in excess to city park needs. That land could be sold, councilmen said, with the funds received going to development of Memorial Park.

San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Denied an appeal by Helge Bruckner, from planning commission requirements for easement paving and fire hydrant installation at his two-lot subdivision at the end of Camino De Herrera.

2. Agreed that the city should limit real estate signs on homes to be 24-by-24 inches.

3. Created a two-hour parking zone in front of 600 Red Hill Avenue, site of an apartment house.

4. Authorized expenditure of $700 for preparation of plans and specifications for construction of a portion of parking lot at The Hub.

5. Hired Larry Stanfield, a reserve police officer, as regular police officer beginning Sept. 16 at $556 a month.

6. Set for Sept. 27 public hearing on a proposal to abandon a portion of Loma Robles Avenue.

7. Set for Sept. 27 public hearing on a proposal to annex two lots on Salinas Avenue in the Short Ranch area.

8. Extended for another 10 years the fire protection agreement with the Sleepy Hollow Fire District.

9. Introduced an ordinance extending the front yard fence height limit from four to six feet, except on corner lots, where the police chief is to set the height limit in accordance with traffic safety standards.

10. Introduced an ordinance rezoning property at 91 Spring Grove Avenue from apartment to single-family residential.

11. Denied, 4-1, a request for a free standing sign at the Shoe Fair on Greenfield Avenue. Councilman Arthur W. Smith dissented.

12. Granted librarian Virginia Stewart a six-month leave of absence for study, and appointed assistant librarian Lucy Palo to serve as librarian for that period.

13. Agreed to meet singly or in pairs with the district engineer of the State Division of Highways on proposed routes for Highway 17 sometime next week.

14. Rejected, 3-2, a candidate for position of junior civil engineer. Councilman Duane C. Ragan and mayor John M. Reichmuth voted yes. Others said 12:20 a.m. was too late a time to consider hiring and important employee and asked the matter be put on the next agenda.

Roads Width Held Flexible On Dias Ranch

Mill Valley Planning Commission recommended last night that roads in the Dias Ranch development be designed to carry anticipated traffic, not built to an arbitrary standard width of 20 feet.

In most areas of the development, commissioners agreed, the roads need only be 18 feet wide. Their concern was to limit cuts and grading of the hilly site.

Commissioners also recommended that all open areas within the development be preserved by dedication or open area zoning.

Both recommendations followed review of the precise development plan for the first increment of 122 units.

The area is outside the city, but within its area of planning interest.

Deputies Hurt Ending Sausalito Family Fight

Two sheriff's deputies were injured early today when they helped a Sausalito policeman capture a man who fled from his home after alegedly beating his wife.

Booked at county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon—his car—was John G. Grace, 54.

Deputies Gary Bartolotti and Raymond Von Savoye were treated at Marin General Hospital for back and chest pains.

An unidentified person reported to police at 3:20 a.m. that a man was beating his wife at 275 Curry Lane. Patrolman Jack Heringer responded to the call with the two deputies.

When they arrived at the house the officers heard screams coming from inside. Finding the front door locked, they rushed to a side door, which was opened by Mrs. Grace, screaming, "please come in! Please come in!"

Before the officers could get inside, Grace pushed his wife aside and slammed the door in their face, they reported, screaming, "knock the door down," Mrs. Grace opened the door again in a few seconds and said her husband had fled out the front door.

The three officers caught Grace as he was starting his car in the carport. As the deputies opened the front doors of the car, Grace drove backward, knocking both men off their feet. They managed to hold onto the doors until the car struck a retaining wall, when both were thrown to the pavement.

The officers reported they had to use their night sticks to subdue the six-foot, seven-inch Grace. He was treated for scalp cuts at Marin General Hospital on his way to jail.

Marin City Inn Fracas Charge

Dorothy Neil Miller, 23, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to assault in a Dec. 4 fracas at Oak Tree Inn near Marin City.

She originally was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled sentencing for Sept. 13.

Hayden Reported 'Gradually Improving'

The Arizona Democrat entered Bethesda Naval Medical Center last Friday for treatment of a recurrence of the infection. There was no indication of when he would be released.

Senate Calls Up Legislation To Increase Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Senate leaders, acting to clear the docket before the start of the civil rights fight two weeks hence, today called up a bill to increase the federal minimum wage to $1.60 and expand its coverage.

As it came from the Senate Labor Committee, the bill would increase the minimum wage 35 cents to $1.60 in 1968 and extend the coverage to an additional 7.2 million new workers.

The House-approved bill would put the $1.60 rate into effect in 1969; some Senate Republicans planned to support an amendment to put the same date in the Senate bill.

Other fights were expected on amendments to eliminate coverage of farm workers and to limit coverage to retail establishments, restaurants and hotels with incomes of $500,000.

The committee bill reduces the limitation from the present $1 million to $500,000 in 1967, and to $250,000 in 1969.

Under the committee bill, farm workers —generally those on farms with at least seven employes —and more than 6 million employes of large service and retail establishments would be covered for the first time.

The new coverage under the Senate bill is about 800,000 less than in the house legislation because the committee deleted low-paid employes in elementary and secondary schools.

Ex-Policeman Arraigned In Bookie Payoff

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Former San Francisco Police Inspector Joseph Farrell yesterday was arraigned on bribery charges in a San Mateo County bookie payoff investigation.

He was ordered to return Sept. 6 to enter a plea. Until then, he and co-defendant Alvin Prara will be free on $1,500 bail. Prara is San Mateo County sheriff's captain.

A third person whose name cropped up in the grand jury investigation, A.L. "Red" Lamport, will appear voluntarily before the grand jury next week, according to his attorney. Lamport is chief inspector for the county district attorney.

Meanwhile, Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson said that he intends to bring into court several persons who know of the alleged payoffs. He said the court would be asked to grant them immunity from prosecution so they could testify before the grand jury.

Novato Street Works Contract Is Awarded

Ghilotti Brothers Inc. of San Rafael last night was awarded a $17,997 contract for resurfacing Novato streets by the Novato City Council.

Bids were opened yesterday afternoon in the city manager's office and the contract was awarded last night.

Ghilotti's bid, lowest of six, was under the $20,000 estimated for the job by Public Works Director Lawrence A. Coleman. Streets to be resurfaced are Grant Avenue from Scott Street to Highway 101, Sutro Avenue from the city limits to Oak Valley Drive, McClay Road from Novato Boulevard to Center Road, and Arthur Street from South Novato Boulevard westward.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Introduced an ordinance annexing 8.5 acres along Alameda Del Prado owned by Joseph R. Fernandez.

2. Accepted Bret Court subdivision on Center Road, Westwood subdivision on Kristy Court, the Braz-Diaz division of land on Pine Street and the Sunset Parkway project from Denlyn to Novato Boulevard as completed.

3. Introduced an ordinance rezoning Westwood Park from agricultural to single family residential.

4. Extended for one year the time for the completion of Bahia subdivision.

5. Received a petition from 26 residents of Ormond Court complaining about dust from the Stanford Oaks subdivision, and asked Coleman to see if Kinney Construction Co., the developers, would do something about the dust.

6. Heard from Coleman that work on the Novato Creek Bridge at Diablo Avenue was ahead of schedule and two lanes of it might be opened in two weeks. Coleman said the project may be completed in October instead of November as planned.

7. Changed date for a public hearing on a licensing ordinance for community television antennae to Sept. 6.

8. Authorized Dalton, Graupner and Barber to make the annual audit of the city's books for $1,350, the same as last fiscal year.

9. Asked the city staff to find out why and by what authority the Novato Sanitary District is requiring new community garbage collection bins to be placed at the curb. The Novato Disposal Service, which operates under a franchise with the sanitary district, has started using a large trough container for some multiple-family units.

10. Adjourned to a special meeting on Sept. 6.

Jane Invited To The White House

Mill Valley soprano Jane Marsh has been invited to sing at the White House in Washington on Sept. 7.

Appearing with her will be other American winners in the international Tschaikovsky competitions held in June in Moscow, in which Miss Marsh won the top prize for female vocalists.

The singer's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Earle Marsh, have been invited to attend the White House concert, and plan to do so.

Inverness Boys Say They Started Fires

Two Inverness boys, 8 and 9, were cited to appear at the sheriff's juvenile bureau today after admitting they started two minor grass fires with matches Aug. 7.

Sheriff's deputies said the fires were near the Inverness Lodge, Callender Way and Argyle Street. A witness learned identity of the pair, officers said.

Jordan Will Appeal Judge Keating Ruling

Sausalito City Atty. Leland H. Jordan today filed a notice of appeal in Marin Superior Court contesting several findings by Judge Thomas F. Keating when he refused June 30 to order the city to grant a fill permit to Sausalito Properties.

Judge Keating ruled that the city moratorium on bay fill had been superceded by legislation creating the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, but he also found the city had acted arbitrarily in denying a fill permit to Sausalito Properties.

Jordan said the findings against the city should be appealed despite dismissal of the action against the city.

Novato Youth Groups Give, Get Assistance

One teen organization contributed its bit to Novato's park fund last night, and another was refused assistance by the city council but got it from a single councilman.

The Novato Teen Club, which is sponsored by the city's recreation department, presented the city council with a check for $200 to be added to the parks acquisition fund.

"We want to thank the city of Novato for policing and chaperoning our dances so we could enjoy them in safety," said club president Michael Ferretti in presenting the check to Mayor J. Wayne Womack.

The Novato Boys Club asked for use of an old city-owned house at Pioneer Memorial Park for storage of equipment which Joseph Bonomolo, club sponsor, said had been given by Foremost Dairies.

City Mgr. J. Julien Baget opposed the idea. The building is in such bad disrepair the council has ordered it boarded up, he poined out.

But Chairman M. E. Babe Silva came to the rescue. He said the club could store its equipment in a warehouse he owns.

Plane Crash Survivor Dies

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — John T. Emmanuel, trapped six days in the wreckage of a small plane, died today in Hartford Hospital.

Dr. Eugene Silliman said last night that Emmanuel, 39, of Hartford, was suffering from "a total state of fatigue to mind and body."

Novato Improvement Plans Given Over To Study Group

The Novato City Council last night received a $9,837,000 capital improvement program and immediately turned it over to a committee.

The proposal, submitted by City Mgr. J. Julien Baget, calls for $8,483,000 in street improvements and $1,354,000 for park acquisition and improvement.

Mayor J. Wayne Womack named Wayne Hathaway, chairman of the planning commission, and William J. Keener, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, to serve on the council capital improvement committee along with councilmen M. E. Babe Silva and William Jack Adams. Silva had called for a bond issue for capital improvements on May 10.

State Fair Recoils From Exhibit Plan

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A controversy has developed over whether the California State Fair and Exposition should provide space for a group which furnishes information on homosexuals.

The group — the Council on Religion and the Homosexual — has threatened a lawsuit against the fair for denying it space.

Harrison Cutler, manager, said Monday the exhibit was rejected in the interest of public good taste.

"We felt that since the fair attracts a great many kids and people of 60 that this type of thing is not in keeping with the precepts of the state fair," Cutler said.

He said the group wanted to "disseminate to the public up-to-date information regarding homosexuals and homosexuality in general in an attempt to change existing stereotypes."

The group applied for space under an "educational classification."

The fair was threatened with court action in a telegram from Dr. Clarence Colwell, president of the council. Colwell called the fair's action "unwarranted."

"Controversiality of subject is not, in our free society, sufficient reason to prohibit free discussion," Colwell wrote. "We are aware that many organizations with equally controversial subjects have been granted booth space.

"We consider that denial of space to us constitutes unequal protection of the laws under the United States and California constitutions.

"Before undertaking appropriate legal action to enforce our rights under the law, we request reconsideration of this denial of space."

Colwell said the council consists of ministers, lawyers, physicians and representatives of other professions "interested in the subject of homosexuality and society's attitude toward homosexuality."

Cutler said he welcomes a court fight. He pointed out that the fair reserved the right to accept or reject any exhibitors or exhibits.

The fair manager said Colwell's group was one of six that would have used the space.

The other groups were the Assn. for Responsible Citizenship, Citizens News of San Francisco, Daughters of Bilitis, Society for Individual Rights, and the Tavern Guild of San Francisco.

"Because of the large family attendance at the fair," Cutler wrote the groups, "our feeling is that it would not be in the best interests of the fair to present your exhibit this year."

The state fair will be held in Sacramento August 31 to Sept. 11, inclusive.

San Rafael Planners Avoid Row, Deny Glass Windbreak Permission

Rather than get involved in a dispute among neighbors, members of San Rafael Planning Commission took the line of least resistance last night.

They remained neutral, denied permission for the erection of a glass windbreak atop a fence, and advised the applicant to appeal their decision.

Mrs. Yolanda Traverse of 14 San Rafael Avenue had asked for a permit for the addition, which would have taken her fence above the six-foot limit.

A neighbor, Mrs. Peter Regalia, objected. "We have been good neighbors for 16 years and the least she could have done was to ask our permission," she said.

At one time, both neighbors exchanged comments about how the fence was paid for in the first place before Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. interrupted.

"When we get two neighbors who disagree it presents something of a hot potato in our laps," he said.

Members set Sept. 13 and 27 for hearings on an amendment to the zoning ordinance to include rubbish dumps under use permit procedure.

Acting Planning Director Charles J. Linthicum explained dumps were not allowed in certain areas only. Under new amendments, he said that rubbish dumping, strictly controlled, would offer more usable land economically. He suggested the commission make it policy that the undeveloped diked tideland areas be the only sections suitable for this use.

Commissioners denied permission for a freestanding sign advertising the Northgate Fashion Mall near the City of Paris store off Northgate Drive. It was described as "beastly" by Commissioner Daniel L. Connell, who added, "When I am in the market for buying space I take no notice of advertising signs."

San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

1. Withdrew at request of the subdivider, Marin Development Co., a tentative map for the seven-lot Francisco Development on Francisco Boulevard.
2. Gave architectural approval for an addition to Barsotti's Body and Fender Service at Hoag Avenue and Mill Street.
3. Granted a use permit for a steel contractor's yard at 635 Irwin Street.
4. Set Sept. 13 and 27 for hearings on a request by Atlantic Richfield Co. at 390 Las Gallinas Avenue for zoning the site, now classified as general commercial.
5. Approved final plans for subdivision of 310 Jewell Street by owners William Dino and Mario Ghilotti.

Mrs. Woo's Car Has Mushrooming Difficulties

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Tak Woo's problem with her car is mushrooming.

She said yesterday she didn't know whether to take it to a mechanic or a gardener when she found a crop of brown and white mushrooms sprouting from the floor matting.

She decided on a mechanic who said, "It looks like there may be a leak in the air conditioner which makes the carpet damp."

And if repairing the air conditioner doesn't do it?

"I'm n my third crop," says Mrs. Woo. "If only I could be sure they were edible."

Chinese Promote Veteran Official

TOKYO (UPI) —Communist China Wednesday confirmed the promotion of Kang Sheng, a veteran party official, to full membership in the Communist politburo. He had been an alternate member of the policy-making body.

Analysts in Hong Kong said Kang's promotion was the highest officially confirmed so far in the current Chinese purge.

Kang' 63, was a member of the politburo from 1938 to 1956, but was demoted in a reorganization on Sept. 28, 1956.

Marin Republican Chairman Warns Of Over-Confidence

Gerald E. Misner, chairman of the Marin Republican Central Committee, warned against over-confidence in the November election at a meeting of the central committee last night.

He said this is particularly true in Rep. Don H. Clausen's bid for re-election. "Most of the people in the six counties think Don is a shoo-in, and that's bad" said Misner.

Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer is opposing Clausen.

Ed J. Slevin, campaign director for State Sen. John F. McCarthy, reported that Senator McCarthy has the toughest fight of his 16-year career because of reapportionment. He is opposed by Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa

In the new three-county (Marin, Napa and Solano) district, the Democrats have about 100,000 registered voters to the GOP's 70,000, said Slevin. The Democrats have a 65-35 edge in Solano and 60-40 edge in Napa.

"The major problem is to help build up enough margin of Republican voters in Marin to offset the Democratic margin in the other two counties," said Slevin.

Precinct chairman James Tufts said that last Saturday's registration drive had netted more than 700 new Republican voters. Chairman Misner predicted a total of some 2,000 new GOP voters would be signed up by the Sept. 15 deadline.

Judge Admonishes Young Lawyer

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — "I trust I will not have to admonish you again," the judge told the young lawyer. "Such outbursts are completely inappropriate in a court of law."

The admonition from Judge Wiliam Taylor struck home with particular force. It was directed at his son, attorney Warren Taylor.

Will The Dogs Receive Pens?

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson signs into law (at noon EDT) today a bill to curb petnapping. The big question was: would Blanco, Kim and Freckles get souvenir pens?

It is Johnson's custom to invite interested persons to the White House to witness certain bill-signings. Afterward, he dips into a vast store of pens to present those in attendance with souvenirs.

Since Blanco, Kim and Freckles —the presidential dogs —are already at the White House, they could be present at the bill-signing today.

TEXAS FARMLANDS FLOODED

Dell City, a farm community east of El Paso was flooded by water running off surrounding mountains to depths form three to 15 feet yesterday. (UPI Telephoto)

More Rain Threatens Devasted Southwest, Army Evacuates Some

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Silt-laden flood waters ebbed slowly today from damaged homes and devastated farms but there was a threat of still more rain in neighboring sectors of far West Texas and southeast New Mexico.

Army helicopters brought food, drinking water and medicines yesterday to residents forced from homes at nearly marooned Dell City, Tex., 92 miles east of El Paso.

The helicopters, from Ft. Bliss in El Paso, also made relief flights to the Carlsbad, N.M., vicinity.

Deluges estimated at 11 inches since Monday at Dell City and 8 inches in Carlsbad Caverns National Park set off the crop-destroying floods.

While the muddy waters were receding, Weather Bureau observers said there was a 50 per cent chance of thundershowers in at least part of the affected area.

At least one death apparently occurred as the Pecos River went on the rampage at Carlsbad. A search continued today for Joe Little, 45, who was washed off a National Guard truck Monday night while reporting developments for radio station KPBM.

Losses were expected to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Water six inches to six feet deep covered about 95 per cent of Dell City, an irrigated farming center. Most of its 950 people took shelter in public schools. Some were rescued off rooftops.

Flood evacuees at Carlsbad — about 100 families — were housed in school buildings.

Helicopters went into action after an 85-foot washout on U.S. 61-80 stalled a 21-truck Army convoy 54 miles east of El Paso.

One of the trucks finally made it into Dell City late last night. There was hope others could get through today.

Eighty-four soldiers set up an evacuation headquarters at the washout, which occurred at a point 15 miles south of the New Mexico line.

Water gushing off the Guadalupe and Hueco mountains poured down normally dry arroyos and across salt flats to inflict staggering crop losses in the Dell City vicinity.

Thousands of acres were submerged, including all the croplands from Dell City to the town of Salt Flat, 13 miles south. In addition to destroying crops, the flooding left deep deposits of mud polluted with alkali deposits which could trouble farmers for months.

Farmers normally harvest cotton from about 2,500 acres around Dell City, irrigating from wells. It also is a vegetable center, producing principally tomatoes and bellpeppers at this season.

Call Made $1,000 Graft Bid Wilson Trial Witness Claims

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An accountant for a nationally-known auditing firm and an administrator of a group insurance program were the main prosecution witness yesterday in the murder-conspiracy trial of Sacramento painting contractor Norman Call.

The accountant, Franklin R. Hildreth of Price Waterhouse and Company, testified that $78,680 was stolen from fringe benefit funds of Painters Union Local 487 in Sacramento.

The insurance administrator, David Hutton of Carmichael, said that Call offered him $1,000 in "graft" to handle the fund under the direction of Call, one of the trustees.

FUND SHORTAGES

Call is one od five defendants charged with conspiracy and murder in the shotgun slaying of San Francisco Painters Union official Dow Wilson, whom the prosecution claims was killed because he planned to reveal shortages in the Sacramento fund.

Separate trials will be held for the other defendants—painting contractor Max Ward of Carmichael, Oakland accountant Carl M. Black, San Francisco tavern operator Richard Rock, of Mill Valley, and Clyde Simmons, an employee of the Sacramento Painters Union.

TRIAL RECESSED

Call's trial, being conducted in the Superior Court of Judge Norman Elkington before a jury of seven women and five men, was recessed yesterday until tomorrow.

Hildreth and Hutton were among a score of witnesses called by the state yesterday to trace funds from the Sacramento Union local to various banks and accounts.

Five witnesses testified they never had seen checks made out to them as claims. Several bankers testified on the transfer of funds, and three police officers testified on the seizure of documents in Black's office.

Hildreth told the court that his audit of 23 accounts of the Sacramento union local's various funds showed $78,680 was missing. He used two charts to trace the funds through various accounts.

The accountant also testified that in his opinion there had been thefts amounting to $21,832 in fraudulent claims from union welfare funds. He said the thefts were accomplished by use of false checks supported by duplicate ducuments and in some cases not even supporting documents.

TAKEOVER SUGGESTED

Hutton testified that Call suggested he take over the fringe benefits funds formerly supervised by Sturve Youngren, Sacramento, who committed suicide during the investigation of the Wilson murder.

Call, according to Hutton, suggested that if Hutton administered the funds he would have to disburse $5,000 per month erroneously, with $1,000 going to Call, $1,000 going to Hutton and $3,000 to be distributed elsewhere.

Hutton said he pointed out that such a disbursement would be discovered, but was told by Call that "was all taken care of."

"What was the $1,000 offered to you?" the prosecution ased.

"Graft," Hutton said.

"This would be under the table to you?"

Four Marin Marines' Recruit Days Over

Four Marin County privates in the Marine Corps have graduater after eight weeks recruit training at San Diego.

They are: David E. Cinti of 128 Kinross Drive, San Rafael; Herbert G. Gardner Jr. of 190 Park Street, San Rafael; Robert K. Leach of 60 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, and William B. Lewis of 604 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia.

They're Ghost Believers After Glowing Girl

NORTHFLEET, England (UPI) —Believe in ghosts? Eric Essex and his family do. They're vacating the house they rented 18 months ago because, like the previous tenants, they claim it's haunted.

Essex said when he first moved in, there were strange noises in the night. Footsteps were heard and locked doors suddenly swung open.

But the clincher that sent Essex, his wife and their two sons scurrying into the night came last weekend when Essex said he was awakened after midnight by a whistling sound.

"Standing near my bed was the glowing shape of a girl, with a sash around her waist," Essex swore. "The whole bed was jumping and I was frozen stiff."

The local council's housing manager promised a full investigation.

Visitation Rights To Two Poodles

SAN JOSE (UPI)—The contested divorce case of Leroy E. Anderson, 29, San Jose, and his wife, Linda Ann, 19, was settled yesterday when the husband was granted visitation rights to the couple's two French poodles.

Superior Court Judge George H. Barnett said Anderson not only had the right to visit Coco, who is "community property," but also Tina, who belonged only to Mrs. Anderson.

NOBODY BIDS FOR SCHOOL PROPERTY

Coleman School Neighbors Complain About Rafael Drive Traffic, Parking

The San Rafael Board of Education failed for the second time last night to obtain a bid on a surplus piece of property across Third Street from the administration building.

The board had insisted on a minimum bid of $43,750 for the triangular-shaped parcel and it had been thought there would be at least one bid from a prospective buyer interested in putting a dental building there.

Charles L. Condrotte, schools business manager, said it appeared there had been difficulty developing plans for the site. The property failed to elicit a bid when offered two years ago.

That disappointment was followed by a series of complaints from residents in the vicinity of Coleman School, largely about traffic and parking problems created on Rafael Drive.

Marie Russell of 135 Rafael Drive told the board that the street is only 24 feet wide and is impassable when clogged by school buses and parents' cars.

Robert B. Finn Jr. of 111 Rafael Drive said he was worried about the effect of expansion of the school on the traffic situation. He said, "People park in front of your driveway, say they'll be just a minute, take a child into the school, and keep you waiting in your driveway for 10 or 15 minutes."

Board members assured them expansion plans would include a turnaround for buses and that the parking problem would be looked into.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

1. Approved purchase of textbooks and supplemental books for the coming year.
2. Approved the 1966-67 adult education program presented by Jerry Gill, director of adult education.
3. Dedicated three easements at the Glenwood subdivision for public use.
4. Adopted a salary revision policy permitting the board to make retroactive or mid-year salary schedule changes.
5. Approved an agreement with the City of San Rafael providing for payment by the two school districts of a total of $20,000 to the city for its 1966-67 recreation program.
6. Approved a $661 change order for relocation of gas and water pipe lines at Santa Venetia School, and a $295 change order for additional carpentry work at Davidson School gymnasium.
7. Cancelled the regular board meeting scheduled for Sept. 13, because of interviews for superintendent scheduled Sept. 12.
8. Met in closed session to interview a candidate for superintendent.
9. Hired James Callaghan to teach elementary school mathematics at $7,220 a year; Arnold Mark, elementary school science, at $6,815; Joyce Vickrey, primary school, at $8,030; Lorelle Burt, part-time library clerk, Glenwood and Gallinas Schools, at $2,091; Iona Damazio, bus driver, at $2.45 an hour; Rigoberto Pinto, part-time curriculum center clerk, at $2,136; Joaquin Vargas, custodian, $4,800; Ann Yoder, part-time library clerk at Laurel Dell-Short schools, $2,091.
10. Accepted resignations of Rosemarie Beitzer, Terra Linda High School home economics teacher; Arthur Piaggio, Davidson School science teacher; Roland Smith, electronics technician; Delmer Waggoner, San Rafael High School custodian, and Juliet Larrabure, adult school clerk.
11. Granted a year's leave of absence to Sandra Bowles, Terra Linda High School English teacher, to work on her master's degree.

Reading Class Assignment To Be Made On Ability

Pupils at Lagunitas School this fall will be assigned to reading classes according to ability and not by grade, the school board decided last night.

The board's action followed recommendations of 10 of the school's teachers who participated in a special workshop last week.

Students will continue to be assigned the traditional home classes, but will be regrouped for both reading and physical education.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said the changes marks a move toward the ungraded system and may be extended to mathematics later in the school year.

A special meeting to explain the system to parents was set for 8 p.m. Sept. 8 at the school.

The board voted to engage the San Rafael engineering firm of Engle and Engle to survey the old portion of the school building to see if it measures up to state earthquake safety standards.

Drums And Bugles At Midnight Ire New Yorkers

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands stepped off down Fifth Avenue at dusk last night in the annual Veterans of Foreign War parade. At midnight, they were still marching and telephones were angrily jangling in police stations and City Hall.

A City Hall spokesman said some 500 persons had telephoned there complaining about the steady beat of the drums and the continuing blare of the bugles. Motorists weren't too happy either, the spokesman said.

The parade, which included about 15,000 VFW members and 2,000 members of the armed forces, started at 6:15 p.m. and ended about six hours later.

There's an 11 p.m. curfew on such parades, but a VFW spokesman said "when the city asked for this convention, nothing was said about an 11 o'clock curfew.'

Registration Slated Today At Seminary

Registration of students from the United States and 11 foreign countries will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Friday, according to Stanton H. Nash, assistant to the president. The seminary expects 30 foreign students, mostly from Asian countries.

Run by the Southern Baptist Convention, the seminary trains persons for the ministry or religious education. It offers bachelor and graduate degrees in church music, religious education, and theology.

New faculty members are Dr. Frank M. Du Bose from Detroit, who will teach evangelism and missions in the seminary's first endowed chair, and Dr. Edward J. Humphrey, who will teach philosophy and theology after 18 years of missionary work in Nigeria.

The institution begins and ends its school year about a month earlier than most colleges.

BOARD PROTESTS CURB MAILBOXES

Supervisors Tell Federal Post Office Box Location Is Local Prerogative

Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday joined in the protest against federal policy requiring curbside mailboxes in new subdivisions, but its protest was not quite so strong as that recently adopted by the County Planning Commission.

The commission said it recognized that curbside mail boxes were appropriate in some areas, but protested the blanket policy.

Supervisors decided to tell federal officials that location of mailboxes should remain a prerogative of local government.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Amended the minutes for March 8 to show that the Marincello Master Plan had been amended to ban access over Wolfback Ridge and to establish a buffer strip along Alta Avenue. Attorneys Leonard A. Bjorklund Jr., representing Wolfback Ridge residents, and Joseph E. Sheeks for Marincello concurred in the change.
2. Authorized extension of general relief for a mother and 4-year-old child until Oct. 26 when the mother can qualify for categorical aid. She is receiving $178 a month general relief.
3. Adopted an ordinance amendment requiring soil tests for all new subdivisions, bringing the county ordinance in line with state requirements.
4. Asked for more study on the proposal for lease-purchase of a $25,000 grader to be used by the fire department. The grader would work four months out of the year, clearing fire roads. Supervisors wondered if other agencies, such as water districts, might share in the use and contribute to the cost.
5. Opposed the proposal to transfer Muir Woods National Monument to the state park system. The monument, the first to be created, would be traded as part of the acquisition of the National Redwood Park in Humboldt County. Mrs. Grace Wellman, chairman of the Marin Conservation League, and several others said the monument was not a necessary part of the Redwood Park proposal.
6. Approved a plan for the public to purchase information such as assessment rolls, and election results, now stored on magnetic tape by the data processing department, at cost of producing.
7. Continued consideration of a county service area for The Meadowlands tract near Fairfax until Sept. 13 at request of Fairfax City Mgr. David J. Sumbardo, who said the city should annex the 30-acre tract because it could supply street lighting at less cost and the tract is in an urban area.
8. Set hearing at 3 p.m., Sept. 13, on the proposal to create the Tamalpais Valley Community Services District.
9. Set hearing Sept. 20 on the proposal to ban back yard burning.
10. Changed the hearing date on the proposed ordinance requiring dedication of park land by subdividers from Sept. 13 to 20.
11. Adjourned at 5 p.m.

County Supervisors Ponder Problem Of Greenbrae Ark

What to do with the wreckage of an ark at 123 Greenbrae Boardwalk was a tough question for county supervisors yesterday.

Last week the board set a hearing Sept. 13 on a proposal to declare the ark a public nuisance. This would mean that owner Carl J. Kalb would have to pay the cost of removing the pile of lumber or having it burned.

Yesterday Ann McCorry of 121 Greenbrae Boardwalk told supervisors that Kalb had the right to burn the wreckage without any supervision from county firemen. But, she said, this would endanger the entire boardwalk.

Miss McCorry said the county building department ordered demolition of the ark in April, 1964. There were two other orders since, but the wreckage is still there.

Supervisors agreed that Kalb should be asked not to burn the wreckage prior to the Sept. 13 hearing. Once a public nuisance is declared, the wreckage can be burned only under supervision of firemen.

San Leandro Boy Arrested In Shooting Death

SAN LEANDRO (AP)—A 15-year-old San Leandro boy has been arrested in connection with the death of a 12-year-old boy Monday.

The dead boy, Philip Soares, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Soares of San Leandro, slumped to the ground while walking with a friend across a vacant lot. He was dead upon arrival at Fairmount Hospital.

At first the Alameda County coroner's office was unable to find anything but a small puncture wound at the back of the boy's neck, but later announced it had found a small caliber bullet near the boy's spine.

Police said the boy was apparently shot from a distance of 400 yards, but refused to say whether the arrested youth was one of a group of boys reportedly shooting rifles in the area.

A Gum In Time Saves A Leaking Gas Tank

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — Fireman Robert W. Brock got a call last night. Gasoline was leaking from the tank of a car.

Brock responded, couldn't find the owner, slapped his chewing gum over the hole in the gasoline tank and returned to the station house.

Teen Gangs Wipe Out Mao's Foes

TOKYO (AP)—Reports reaching here today said gangs of teen-agers called Red Guards were ranging through the cities of Communist China in a zealous campaign to wipe out vestiges of opposition to Mao Tze-tung.

A Japanese correspondent reported the guards had issued an ultimatum demanding that the eight minor parties allied with the ruling Communists dissolve themselves within 72 hours from Tuesday midnight.

"If you don't dissolve yourselves we will help you dissolve," the ultimatum reportedly said.

A missing person is easier to find 10 years after he has disappeared than 10 days after, says Tracers Company of America.

Lonely Second Stage Satellite To Get Use

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When a Saturn 1 rocket flings a satellite into orbit, its second stage enters a separate orbit and circles the earth like a giant empty house trailer.

Why not, somebody asked, make use of this hardware in some way?

That's what the National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes to do. The agency's Marshall Space Flight Center has begun negotiating a contract to convert a Saturn 1 second stage into a manned space station.

The contract, with McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis, Mo., is expected to run about $9 million.

McDonnell is to build an airlock that will connect a three-man Apollo spacecraft to the hydrogen fuel tank in the second stage and is to develop life-support systems to make the tank habitable.

The second stage, which uses liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen for propulsion, is 58 feet long and weighs 23,000 pounds empty. Much of the length is taken up by the engine. But the hydrogen tank measures 20 feet by 21.7 feet — plenty of room for three astronauts to set up housekeeping.

The airlock will be about 15 feet long and 5½ feet in diameter. It will be attached to the top of the second stage and ride in an adapter section between the rocket and the Apollo spacecraft.

Once in orbit, the three Apollo crewmen will separate their ship from the rocket, turn it around and link up with a docking apparatus at one end of the airlock.

The airlock will be a chamber with airtight doors like manhole covers at each end. The astronauts will open one door and crawl into the chamber, closing the cover behind them. Then they open the other end and enter the hydrogen tank. This eliminates the need to depressurize the spacecraft and the tank each time a man enters or leaves.

There also will be an additional hatch on the side of the airlock to permit an astronaut to take a space walk without depressurizing either of the cabins.

Before entering the tank, the astronauts will make certain any leftover hydrogen is vented overboard and they will activate equipment to pressurize it. They also will electrically connect the Apollo craft's life support system to the fuel tank.

Equipment such as work tables, beds and experiments will be packed in containers attached to the walls of the tank.

NASA officials hope to try out this concept in 1968 keeping the three astronauts in the tank for up to 30 days.

By then, the combination of the Saturn 1 and the Apollo spacecraft will be throughly checked. A test flight is scheduled from Cape Kennedy Thursday that may pave the way for the first three-man Apollo earth-orbit flight later this year. The advanced Saturn 5 rocket is to boost an Apollo ship toward the moon in 1968 or 1969.

Second Public Hearing Set On Lagoon Plan

Bolinas Harbor Commission will hold a second public hearing on the Bolinas Lagoon master plan tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Bolinas Community Center.

Like the first hearing last Saturday at Stinson Beach, it will be merely for consultant Norman Gilroy to present criteria for the plan, which is to be unveiled at a third hearing Sept. 17 at 3 p.m. in Bolinas.

Knowing What Meat To Buy Will Save Money And Effort

What should you buy — hamburger, ground beef, ground chuck or ground round?

Each of these names on the label of a package of ground meat has a distinct and different meaning. And, knowing the right meat to buy for the dish you plan to serve will not only save you money, but also will result in a more delicious meal.

Both hamburger and ground beef are made from boneless chunks of less tender beef along with the less popular cuts such as neck meat, stew cuts, the plate, brisket, flank, shank, and trimmings from boned roasts.

While they can be used for hamburgers, they are best when used in combination with other items such as meat loaves, casseroles, meat sauces, and many foreign dishes such as Italian and Mexican specialities.

GROUND CHUCK is meat from the shoulder or "chuck" of the animal. The chuck is more popular than the cuts of meat used in regular ground beef, so it is usually higher priced. It is slightly leaner, 15 to 25 per cent fat, and shrinks less in cooking than regular ground beef. Because of this, it is especially good for use in patties.

GROUND ROUND is just what its name implies—ground up round steak. Federal meat inspectors point out that since round steak has a fat content of about 11 per cent, it may not be as desirable for grinding and use in patties.

However, ground round may be used by many people who are on low fat diets. Its best use in this case is in combination with other ingredients that add moisture to the meat such as in meat loaves, casseroles or meat sauces rather than as broiled "burgers."

If you like to buy cuts with less fat for grinding such as the top or bottom round or a closely-trimmed sirloin tip, ask your butcher to add a little beef suet to it. This will give you a jucier product.

No matter which kind of ground meat you buy — for more tender and juicy results—cook the meat only to the medium stage even if it is to put into casseroles or sauces. And, don't try to flatten meat patties while they are cooking. This will squeeze out those precious juices and flavor.

WHEN BUYING GROUND meat, look for that which has a bluish red color. This indicates that the meat has been freshly ground.

Remembr, too, that ground meat is more perishable than steaks or roasts because it's been ground and more of the meat's "surface" is exposed.

Prune Plum Relish A Treat To Enjoy

Prune Plumb Relish—So good with lamb, veal, pork, and poultry — is a treat to enjoy now while those delicious large sweet purple prune plums, really Italian prunes, grown almost exclusively in the Pacific Northwest, are here in our markets. This uncooked relish is so easy to make, keeps a week or more in the refrigerator, freezes well to last for months.

But you can have it anytime if you freeze some of these unusual plumbs, to be used as one would the fresh fruit in so many ways — Pie, cobblers, crisps, coffee cakes, sauces and the like.

JUST WONDERFUL PURPLE PLUM RELISH

- 16 medium purple plums, halved and pitted
- 1 medium-sied orange, quartered
- 1 medium-sized apple, peeled and quartered
- 1 and ½ cups granulated sugar

Put fruit through moderately-coarse plate of food chopper. Add sugar. Mix well. Pack in tightly-covered containers, preferably those that hold enough for one meal, especially if relish is to be frozen. Let stand overnight in refrigerator before serving. Serve cold. Yield: 3 to 3½ cups.

VARIATION: prepare relish as directed, adding 1 cup scissor-cut seedless raisins, ⅔ cup chopped walnuts, dash of ground cloves, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. For variety, you may wish to divide a recipe of the relish in half. Pack one portion plain, and add fruit and spices to the remainder. The latter is perfect with ham.

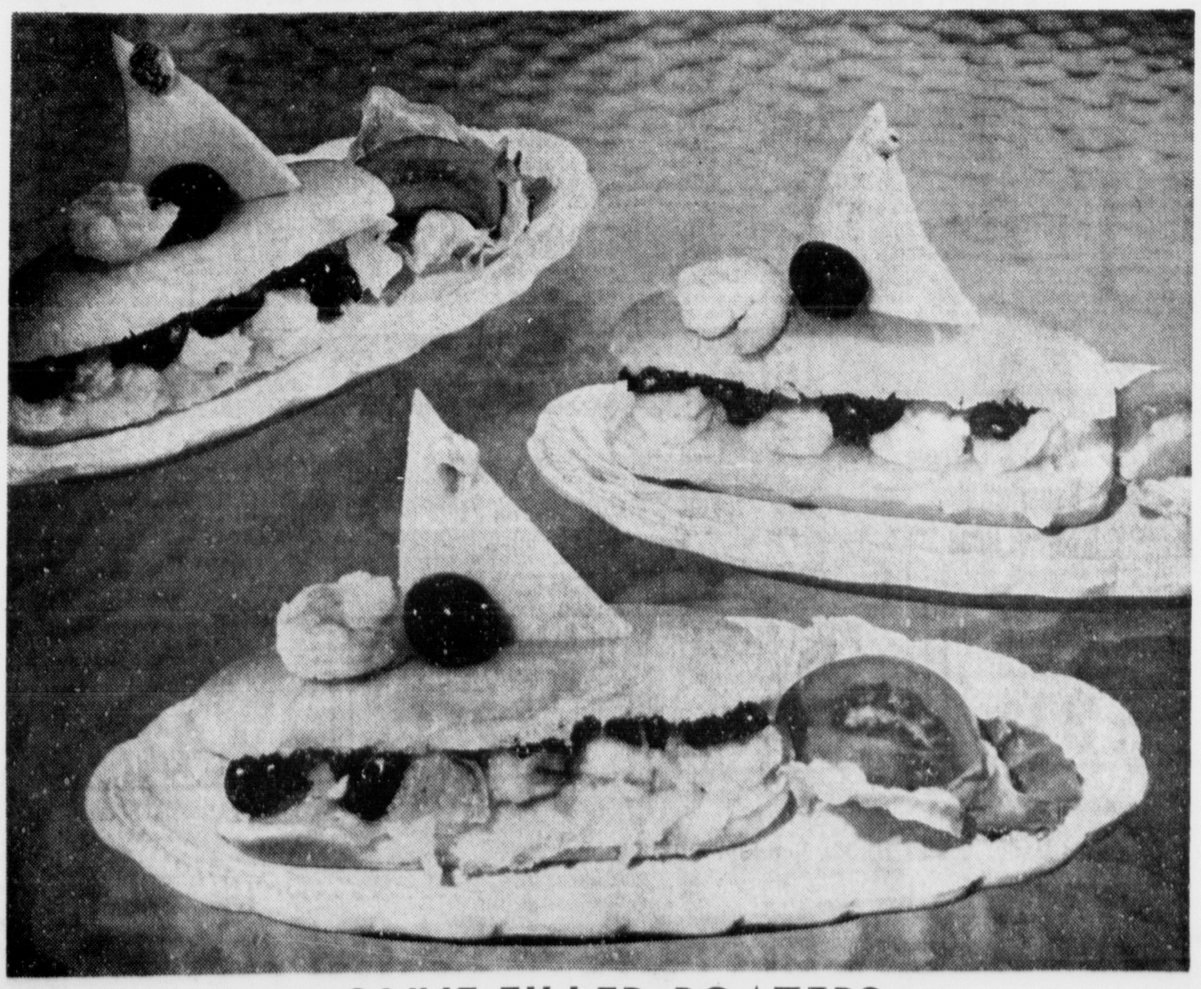
PLUM-GOOD-EATING PIE

- 4 cups halved, seeded fresh purple prune plums (about)
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 3 tablespoons flour
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg or mace
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- pastry for double-crust pie

Cut plum halves once crosswise. Half fill pastry-lined 9-inch pie dish with purple plums. Mix together dry ingredients. Sprinkle half over fruit. Add lemon juice. Add remaining dry ingredients. Dot with butter. Cover with crust with a few slits cut in center. Seal edges. Bake in 425 degree F. (hot) oven 35 to 45 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream, ice cream, hard sauce, or a nippy Cheddar cheese. Makes 6 to 8 servings. Spices and lemon may be omitted, with 2 tablespoons orange juice and 2 teaspoons grated orange rind used instead.

TO FREEZE PURPLE PLUM PIES: if freezing two-crust pies unbaked, do not cut slits in top crust. For lattice-top or other open design tops, first cover closely with foil or moisture-vapor-proof film, or freezer paper. Wrap entire pie in choice of above. Seal, label, date. Freeze arpidly. If baked, cool baked pies thoroughly, then wrap. Place level in freezer so juice won't leak out. Use within 4 months.



OLIVE FILLED BOATERS

Palais Pears Dish To Set Before A King

"Palais Pears" is a dish to set before your king — or more likely, your husband and his most important business guests.

Made with fresh California Bartlett pears, it is named for the famed La Palais Restaurant in Vienna, and presents the luscious West Coast fruit in a setting of chocolate, cinnamon and whipped cream in a meringue shell. (And because the Viennese are notorious for rich desserts, aren't you glad that one medium size (100 grams) fresh California-grown Bartlett pear contains only 63 calories! A chilled, juicy-ripe Bartlett makes a satisfactory low-calorie dessert for everyday eating.)

FROM NOW until some time in September — perhaps even longer — we can expect to be abel to serve fresh California Bartletts all our favorite ways—sliced for breakfast, as a picnic lunch treat with cheese or, now and then, as the main attraction in a fabulous dessert such as "Palais Pears."

YOUR GUESTS may find it hard to believe that you made this showy dessert yourself, for it looks and tastes as though Le Palais' Chef Bernard had whipped it up in the kitchens of the magnificent 18th century palace-restaurant. But to prove you made it yourself from fresh California Bartlett pears and the other yummy ingredients, you could even offer to share the recipe with them!

PALAIS PEARS

- 3 egg whites (at room temperature)
- ½ teaspoon vinegar
- Salt
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 fresh California Bartlett pears
- Lemon juice
- 1 envelope plain gelatin

- ¾ cup water
- 1 can (5½ oz.) fudge topping
- ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ cup whipping cream
- 2 maraschino cherries, cut into wedges

Beat egg whites with vinegar and dash salt until foamy; gradually add sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks form (about 15 minutes). Beat in ½ teaspoon vanilla. Place meringue in pastry bag and pipe onto greased and floured cooky sheet to form 11 x 7-inch rectangle; build up edges about 2 inches high. Bake in 275-degree (very slow) oven 1 hour. Turn off heat; let meringue cool in oven with door open. Halve and core pears. Dice 1 pear; slice remaining pear crosswise. Coat with lemon juice. Combine gelatin and water in saucepan; heat gently, stirring, until gelatin is dissolved. Blend fudge topping, ⅛ teaspoon salt, cinnamon and remaining vanilla into genatin mixture. Chill until mixture begins to mound. Meanwhile, whip cream stiff; fold into chocolate mixture with diced pear. Heap into meringue shell. Arrange sliced pear in 2 rows on top; dot cherries in row down center.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

PALAIS PEARS puts a Viennese crown on an elegant dessert featuring fresh pears with a chocolate mousse filling in a basket of meringue. Your guests may find it hard to believe that you made the showy dessert yourself, for it looks like it has been whipped up in a 18th century palace restaurant.

Ripe Olive Sailors For Lunch Brunch

You don't have to be an "ancient mariner" to enjoy these trim little olive filled boaters. Launch your lunch plans with hot dog buns and lots of canned California ripe olives, shrimp and grated Cheddar to fill them. They're good hot — wrap them in foil for a quick backe in the oven or on the grill. A sassy cheese sail and bright garnishes of tomato wedges, more shrimp and glossy olives make them most seeworthy. The skipper of the kitchen will find it easy to pack her cargo to go to the Labor Day picnic for the crew to assemble on site.

Mellow meaty ripe olives will get the most summer worn appetites out of the doldrums. Float 'em in soups, strew them through stews, sauce them over meats or slip them into chili. Their unobtrusive flavor goes equally well in delicate creations or spicy concoctions. And California ripe olives always go beautifully all by themselves for snacks and nibbles.

RIPE OLILVE SAIL BOATERS

- 6 hot dog buns
- 3 tablespoons soft butter
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 2 cups cooked, fresh, frozen or canned shrimp
- ⅔ cup canned California pitted ripe olives
- ⅔ cup grated Cheddar cheese
- Catsup

Spread cut surface of sliced buns with butter blended with mustard. Arrange shrimp, then olives cut into pieces on bottom half of buns; sprinkle with cheese and drizzle with a little catsup. Cover with top half of bun. Wrap buns in aluminum foil. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 20 minutes until hot and toasted. Garnish with a cheese triangle on a pick, sail fashion, and additional ripe olives, shrimp and tomato wedges as desired.

Makes 6 boaters.

A Variety Of Careers Helps Successful Lagunitas Writers

By LOIS SENS

While the maddening pace continues to quicken with predictions that travelers of the future will find it necessary to first reserve space on the nation's highways . . . there are those who recognize and enjoy the present for its own value.

Two such people are authors Laura Nelson Baker and Adrien Stoutenburg who have made their home in Lagunitas since 1959. Both are talented writers, turning out several books annually for young and adult markets.

In her poem, "Private Shelter," Miss Stoutenburg expresses her philosophy:

"My shelter is what I know and love: this grass, these friends, this enterprise of earth and air, the ignorant owl singing as if all owls were immortal. I fear for the prudent, breathing like moles, and survivors crawling into a world where nothing moves but their crawling shadows. I am concerned for wives and mothers tumbling toward graves they must keep cozy, and fathers with slide rules, working late, promising ramblers and resurrection out of flame and their own seedless ashes."

Their large home and guest house nestles on nearly an acre of ground along a wooded ridge in Lagunitas. There is a badminton court for an occasional morning's exercise and Laura's orange cat, named Torkel, lounging on the sunny patio.

Recent remodeling has brought a large picture window and glass sliding doors which allow a breathtaking view toward the south. Off the kitchen and dining area are the workrooms or offices, each lemon colored with windows facing out on the wooded area to the east.

"Our only complaint," says Adrien, "is that we never see the sun rise or set here. But we do drive to the coast for that spactacular view."

Both authors were born in the Midwest, Laura in Lake Mills, Iowa, and Adrien in Darfur, Minn. As do most successful writers, they have worked at a variety of jobs.

Mrs. Baker began her career as receptionist at a settlement house in Minneapolis and used that background together with material gathered from a University of Minnesota course for her book, "Those Who Care." The book is filled with human interest and carefully outlines the helping role that group work takes in efforts to solve major social problems.

MRS. BAKER attended courses at the university for several years concentrating in the social sciences. She wrote publicity for a time before becoming editor of a weekly newspaper in Richfield,

Minn. She also taught Sunday school, but gave up the idea when, after a careful explanation on the Bible, the only response from the children was, "You have too much lipstick on."

Adrien was a librarian in Hennipin County, Minn., in what was formerly a carriage house. She describes it as "quite a shack with pheasants wandering around, an oil stove to fight off the Minnesota winter and skunks residing beneath."

She and Laura drew on their Midwestern background somewhat for their book "Dear, Dear Livy," published in 1963, which tells of the life of Mrs. Mark Twain. In it Olivia Langdon is pictured as a sheltered girl, frail in health but courageous and an inspiration to her husband.

MISS STOUTENBURG also worked briefly as an art teacher in a settlement house, but the "free expression" of the students caused her to resign. She lists herself as "a graduate of the U.S. System of Public Libraries." Both authors are constant users of the public libraries and have found the reference facilities at the Bancroft Library of University of California to be invaluable.

Adrien worked as political reporter for the Richfield (Minn.) News in 1951 and as an editor of children's books when they moved to California. For "Heroes, Advise Us" in which "Private Shelter" appeared, she received the Lamont Poetry Selection award from the Academy of American Poets in 1964. She also received the Michael Sloan award and Edwin Markham award for her poetry in 1961.

Laura's three grandchildren, Laurie, 9, Terry, 7, and Timmie Jr., 4, reside with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy L. Baker, in Littleton, Colo. She dedicated "Other Brother" to Laurie who offers critiques on her grandmother's books and who intends to be an author herself.

MRS. BAKER'S six brothers and sisters reside in the Midwest, Pennsylvania and Colorado. She and Adrien are planning a trip by car to Minnesota next month for a reunion with relatives in Richfield. They plan to take camping equipment along.

That the two are quite adept at camping was indicated during a similar trip in May, 1963. Memories of that vacation are quite vivid since they spent the night camped out in the mountains when the temperature dropped to 25 degrees. That year, the rain, mud and snow were particularly heavy during the drive through Yellowstone Park.

Last August and September they drove south to New Mexico. On the way to visit relatives in Tesque, they stopped in Albuquerque and spent the hottest two days "we'd ever encountered."

On an earlier trip in 1954, Laura and Adrien took a bus to Mexico and spent five months at La Quinta Hotel (fifth stop) in Guadalajara. They studied Spanish and Laura did a book on travel by bus. The trip did have complications, however, since the reservations clerk had neglected to mention the first-class bus tickets must be renewed at each stop. The two found second class accommodations to be something quite different on a bus through Mexico.

Adrien's step-father, C. R. Lappin, resides in Los Angeles and an aunt, Mrs. C. V. Jeffrey, lives in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Among her 34 books published, some under the pen name of Lace Kendall, Adrien has written 7 or 8 mysteries and several children's stories. "Master of Escape" is a biography of Hudini, a man she believes was a genius. She wrote "Window On The Sea" in two and half weeks.

She and Laura, who has written 17 books including a short novel for adults and several children's books, have collaborated in writing seven books. One of their recent publications is a life of Freud for teen-agers, "Explorer of the Unconscious: Sigmund Freud."

SEVERAL of Miss Stoutenburg's books have been translated into German, Dutch and Hindi. The latter, "Little Smoke," was selected by the U.S. Information Agency in politics and philosophy. Laura did some campaigning in Minnesota and has dedicated one of her books to Vice President Hubert Humphrey, a fellow Minnesotan. They helped campaign for Thomas Storer, Marin County supervisor, whose wife, Inez, illustrated Laura's new book, "O Children of the Wind and Pines," to be published next month.

The writers have both taken philosophy courses in adult education from Dr. Henry Gardiner at College of Marin. Adrien recently completed a course in modern poetry from Laurence Hart which she felt, "helped me tremendously in realizing a much wider scope in my poems."

PLANS for the fall include the publication of a biography of Walt Whitman. Adrien's collection of stories in rhyme based on folk songs, "The Crocodile's Mouth," will be published by Viking Press next month. Her poem will also be included in the Poetry Awards' annual volume, "Best Poems of 1965."

Mrs. Baker's new book, "A Tree Called Moses," published recently, involves the redwood tree in Sequoia National Forest which burned for eight days.

In October, Adrien will give readings of her poetry at San Francisco State College and San Francisco Museum of Art.

Both authors have given their

Symposium Guests To Be Entertained

By MOLLY MARIN

Scholars attending the International Asian Art Symposium, which begins Monday at the De Young Museum in San Francisco, will be entertained in Marin on Sept. 3. Representatives from 14 countries will visit Muir Woods, then be entertained at informal luncheons. The Belvedere homes of William S. Picher and Mrs. E. M. Shelton, and Berryhill, Betty Bechtel's home in Ross, will be opened for the visitors.

The closed symposium, which will enable the experts from all over the world to observe the Avery Brundage collection of Oriental art now on permanent display in San Francisco, will be the occasion for other hospitality. Delegates have been invited to the city home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bissinger, who have a summer home in Kent Woodlands, for a reception Sunday. The host list for 20 dinner parties to be given on Aug. 30 and 31 includes Mr. and Mrs. Albert Evers, formerly of Ross, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Dakin, who lived in Belvedere, where they maintain a summer residence. Driving the symposium delegates will be a group of museum docents, including a number of Marin women.

HIGHLIGHT OF THE recent two-month trip abroad of Mr. and Mrs. Lou H. Hymans of Belvedere was an informal meeting with the Hon. Zalmar Shazar, president of Israel. Mrs. Hymans noted the favorable economic transformation since her last visit to Israel in 1951. President Shazar spoke of a visit he had made to San Francisco a number of years ago. The Hymans also visited Holland, England, Greece and Switzerland.

THIS HAS BEEN a busy summer for the John A. Thomsons of Mill Valley, especially for their sons, John, 15; Jim, 13; Frank, 10, and Lewis, 8. Their cousin, Ardith, 11, daughter of Mrs. Thomson's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thys Risselada of Rotterdam, Holland, has been a house guest all summer and will be leaving next week.

This was under a sort of family exchange plan that was Mrs. Thomson's idea. Though children under 12 cannot travel alone in this country, she says, they can go abroad. Just before John and Jim were 12, they went to Rotterdam to spend the summer.

Also visiting the Thomsons have been their nieces, Susan and Anne, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Tausig of St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Thomson says the youngsters have seen California from one end to the other and the boys taught their cousins to sail in their boats, the "Bushy Tail" and "Dolphin." Ardith, who already knew English, taught the boys Dutch.

MRS. ARTHUR F. THOMAS will entertain on Sept. 1 at a poolside tea at her Fairhills home in honor of Allene Mossman, whose wedding to H. Reed Volin Jr. will take place this autumn.

Among the 50 guests from San Francisco and Marin will be members of the Northgate Group and Dominican College alumnae classmates of the honoree.

Pouring will be Mesdames Frederick W. Good, Rodney B. Hartman, Ernest L. Kirschner, C. Sumner Orr, Frederick N. Scatena Jr., Edward M. Shelton and George R. Smith.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Albert P. Mossman of Ventura, and the future benedict is the son of Col. and Mrs. H. Reed Volin of San Rafael.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM R. TALLEY of San Rafael will leave on Sunday for an around-the-world trip which will include an African safari. They plan to be gone for four months.

THE ALEXANDER IMLAYS of Sausalito and their sons, Tim, 15, and Mike, 13, say they were surprised and delighted with driving through the Mexican countryside following a week spent scuba diving at Baha. They flew to Loreto in Baha, where they met the boat equipped for skin diving. This was the third such trip for them. Mrs. Imlay was thrilled to find a rare shell on her first dive, and the whole family saw finback whales, mantas and hammerhead sharks. The boat left them at La Paz, where they flew to Guadalajara and rented a car for the drive to Mexico City before flying home.

HELEN HELP US!

With Father Egging Children On, They May Become Society-Haters

DEAR HELEN:

You told a poor mother to forget it when her poor little kid got beat up by her teacher. (Note from H: Hold up there, friend: I advised against taking action on a long-past incident because I didn't buy the child's story.)

That's right, stick up for the no-good teachers. That will egg them on to be meaner. They hate our kids and like it fine when they can get something on them so they can beat them. And the school board says Okay!

My boys have been beat on and bawled out and picked on since they first started to school. I can't get nowhere with the principal. He hates parents like he hates the kids. He can't get a job anywheres else because he isn't good enough.

I tell you, Helen, you just don't know. Teachers take it out on our kids because they're jealous. They are overpaid for not much work, and they think they're little tin gods. But my kids won't bow down to them. So they get bad grades. That's how the teachers get even.

— MR. X. WHO KNOWS

DEAR MR. X.:

Your children get what YOU deserve! It's a pity they must forfeit an education because your hate-talk has turned them into haters too. They're little hellions because they're whipped up by your twisted ideas.

With you egging them on, they'll be lose-outs and drop-outs who blame their failures on society — as they wait in line for their relief checks — unless someone can change their thinking in time, and make them realize that he who throws mud usually stands in it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Any wild and wacky questions lately? Please share.

— HOPEFUL

DEAR HOPEFUL:

A few. For example:

DEAR HELEN:

Do sunflower seeds give you cancer? — NUT CRACKER

DEAR HELEN:

If you drink water standing on your head, will it cure you of hiccoughs? — A READER

The answer to the first is NO, and to the second: Only an astronaut could tell you for sure. Try it and you'll see what I mean! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

What might seem like a trivial problem has turned into a major battle at our happy, dishwasherless household.

I have three pre-schoolers and one husband at the kindergarten stage — so I think at times. Our battle is over paper plates — the attractive, plastic-coated, heat resistant variety. I use them year round, not just for patio barbecues, and the children get practically all their meals on them.

My husband gets regular dishes, cups and glasses, except at lunch. But he still feels he married me to "love, honor and wash dishes." He doesn't complain about the cost (about $1.50 per week), just the idea. He thinks a table should be set with the kind of dishes that would make me stand over a hot sink.

If we have guests for dinner, there's not a paper plate in sight, but I admit that casual snacks for after-movie parties come out on paper plates.

What do you say? Am I lazy or practical? Truthfully, I don't even want a dishwasher. This takes less time.

— PAPER PLATE ADVOCATE

DEAR P. P. A.:

You're practical, but not practical enough to see that compromise works better than a columnist's promise of support . . . which can turn a husband off faster than you can burn a paper plate.

Why not paper for breakfast and lunch and a real table setting for dinner, provided the "boss" makes it with the dishtowel? — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen Help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

manuscripts to different libraries which requested them. The Kerlan collection at University of Minnesota and Bancroft Library at University of California have received original copies. A recent request from Hattiesburg, Miss., netted that library Laura's "Cousin Trig" and Adrien's "Rainboat."

THE TWO productive writers follow a full schedule of work. Still, there is time to enjoy life in the home at the end of the road in Lagunitas as Laura muses, "perched on the side of a hill, with its back to undeveloped woodlands, where deer and racoons and hummingbirds talk to each other without human eavesdroppers."

Miss Smith Is Bride In Quebec Rite

Nuptials at Eglise Baptiste Evangelique in St. Georges de Beauce, Quebec, Canada united in marriage Rosemary Smith of Fairfax and Russell Edward Millspaugh of Cleveland, Ohio, on Aug. 5. The couple are in Canada training for Peace Corps duty on the Ivory Coast, where they will be sent next month.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Smith of Fairfax, wore an Empire style white cotton gown with embroidered top.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Seminare St. Georges and the couple spent their wedding trip in the city of Quebec.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and University of California at Santa Barbara. She attended University of Aberdeen, Scotland, and took graduate study at San Jose State College, receiving a teaching credential. Roberta Smith of Fairfax is her sister.

Russell is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Mildred Millspaugh of Cleveland. He was graduated from John Marshall High School and Columbia College, New York. Jeanne and Joanne Millspaugh of Cleveland are his sisters.

Sausalito Shop's Staff Tea Planned

The 52 volunteer members, who meet once a month to disburse the money earned in their little shop at 19 Princess Street, will have a chance to know one another better on a social basis. Most particularly they will become acquainted with one of their hardest working members who does not work in the shop, but in her home. She is Mrs. Lea Tichenor, creator of the potholders that are a familiar sight to all the shop's regular customers. They have become such a specialty that it is not at all unusual for out-of-towners to send in especially for them. Juanita Musson, well known former Sausalito restaurateur, still sends down from Sonoma regularly for her supply.

Mrs. Tichenor has made 11,000 of these potholders since the day 10 years ago when she spotted a bright piece of new material brought into the shop. Since then all suitable new material and donated mattress pads used for stuffing are delivered to Mrs. Tichenor, who sends the finished product back to the shop to be sold for 15 cents apiece.

Workers at tomorrow's tea will also have the opportunity to meet the three new members, Mesdames Thomas Plant, Chester Solberg and Robert Friedrichs.

The party has been arranged by a committee of Mesdames John Partridge, Fay Sparks and Richard Phillips, co-chairmen of the shop. Other officers of the executive board are Mesdames Cyril Hansen, treasurer; Fred Baker, secretary; and Sherwood Armstrong, advisor. The members of this board are finishing their third year in office.

In the past 26 years of the shop's history nearly 500 women volunteers have given time to this organization, which supports some 40 causes of all purposes and creeds. Donations this year will amount to over $9,000, much of which is given to various Marin County charities.

The shop also has eight adopted children under the auspices of the Foster Parents Plan. The latest addition is an orphan from the Philippines, added when a former child, Chan Chung Wo of Hong Kong, became self-supporting.

From their Greek boy came an appeal recently for supplementary funds to provide transportation expenses to a school in a neighboring town, a request cheerfully granted.

The shop sells all types of merchandise — clothes, books, records, dishes, glassware, kitchen accessories, etc. Such saleable items are dropped by the shop between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. as well as Wednesday evenings. A phone call to the shop will dispatch one of the volunteers for local pickup.

Ice Cream Social Is Planned Sunday

"The Gleaners" of the Order of Easter Star in Novato will have an ice cream social from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday at the home of the Roger Hicks at Bel Marin Keys.

Mrs. Hicks said tickets will be on sale at the door for the social which will feature ice cream, cake, cookies, coffee and lemonade.

Marin Women

Mrs. David Walker Heads Novato Episcopal Women

The Episcopal Church Women of St. Francis Church in Novato have elected Mrs. David C. Walker to serve as their president for the 1966-67 year.

A member of the organization four years, Mary Jane Walker has served as chairman of the hospitality and Christian social relations committee.

Mrs. Walker says that the purpose of the church group is to give women an organization through which they can further Christian principles by helping others. Their project is to help furnish the new educational building at the church which is under construction. A wine tasting is planned for September and a Christmas bazaar as their fund raising projects.

Before coming to Novato Mrs. Walker taught school for nine years in the East and eight years in Santa Rosa. She received a degree at State Teacher's College in Indiana, Pa.

Mrs. Walker and her husband, owner of a building material firm in San Rafael, have one daughter, Lorrie Jane, 14.

Among the new president's interests are people, swimming (in their own backyard pool), bowling and learning to play golf. She also enjoys puttering in the yard and entertaining informally.

Serving with Mrs. Walker are Mesdame Donald Kenyon, vice president; Richard Whitney, secretary; Alfred Rufts, treasurer and G. Brenton Dippel, parliamentarian.

Shopping in the Village

Town & Country Village

The Village is bustling these days with back-to-school shopping. Fall fashions for the whole family are in now along with new and unique specialty items. Plan a browsing and shopping tour through The Village soon. Window shoppers welcome at STRAWBERRY.

Outdoor cookery and late summer leisure living seem to go together. THE HEARTH SHOP has an excellent selection of barbecue cookers . . . the Char-Broil and Casa-Q brands, as examples. Char-Broil portable pits are famed for no-nonsense, dependable and practical outdoor cooking . . . the Casa-Q is the same high quality and is equally at home on patio, boat or even in the fireplace.

"Dear MUTTS OF MARIN, These fleas are really bugging me (no pun intended) . . . Please, answer my pleas to be rid of my fleas! Itchingly, Lisa the Daffy Dachshund."

This is an ideal time to visit IDEAL STATIONERS. Excellent stock here of back-to-school supplies . . . all the most wanted sizes and styles of notebooks and such. Complete line of office supplies at IDEAL STATIONERS, too.

More and more Marinites are discovering the old fashioned charm of the old fashioned country store in our midst . . . HICKORY FARMS OF OHIO. Just wander down the aisles of this friendly store and we'll bet you find a delicious remembrance straight out of Grandma's kitchen. And, just like Grandma, HICKORY FARMS never skimps on quality ingredients. We like the old fashioned hospitality of the invitation to taste before you buy . . . however, we don't recommend you sample all 126 varieties of cheeses at one time. Save a few as tasty excuses to return to HICKORY FARMS.

Noticed some good-looking sportswear for fall in EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP. Particularly liked two slacks outfits . . . one has pants and overblouse top of black and white, houndstooth check (top has three-quarter sleeves and cowl neckline) . . . another outfit is in a flattering teal blue, matching pants and overblouse top (this top has short sleeves, scoop neckline and, a just-for-fun trim of shocking pink and avocado). Chic "waiting wear" from EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP.

"Let's go out for dinner!" . . . This is often a last-minute phrase and we recommend you change it to "Let's go to The HICK'RY PIT!" The whole family will be welcomed here in come-as-you-are garb. Just a fast swipe at the children's faces with a damp washcloth, and they are "dressed" for The HICK'RY PIT. Good food . . . good prices . . . good service . . . good grief, let's go!

"Look it up!" . . . a phrase that's heard often in our households during the school year. CAPRICORN BOOKS carries a fine stock of dictionaries and thesauruses (don't remember them? . . . look 'em up!) . . . lots of other reference books too . . . and the price range will fit any wallet. Any of these books would make welcome gifts for returning scholars.

Very nice for gifts or your own at-home use . . . the printed (initial or name) matches, coasters and napkins at RoJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP.

Marvelous sale right now (to make room for new shipments) at RHODA SELDEN. Drastically reduced prices on a ten foot, linen velvet couch in a luscious citrus lemon shade . . . also two correlated arm chairs. The chairs are covered in scalandre embroidered fabric with white background. RHODA SELDEN, talented interior decorator, invites you to see these items in a room setting display at her shop next to The Cherish Inn.

A very special, new shipment at VILLAGE LIQUORS . . . a fine, light Bordeaux from France. This vintage wine is estate labeled Chateau Rouet, and will be appreciated and enjoyed by both connoisseur and "beginner" alike.

Nice-to-hear comment from a reader . . . she had entertained friends for luncheon at KUBLAI KHAN, and phoned to tell us it was every bit as nice as we said. Besides the marvelous food and excellent service, our friend commented on the lovely table settings at KUBLAI KHAN . . . and she's right. Both decor and table appointments are most attractive.

Any hostess would be happy to use the place card holders and markers we saw at HAPPY HOUSE. There is a unique Italian import of white porcelain with tiny floral trim . . . you write directly on this place marker, then just wipe off the writing to use again and again. Set of eight for four, ninety-eight. And do see the happy silver cherubs at HAPPY HOUSE . . . these little charmers hold place cards, are tarnish resistant and cost one dollar each.

To avoid being a "ten o'clock scholar," we recommend a visit to VILLAGE JEWELERS before school starts. Many styles of watches here, including pendant watches and alarm wristwatches, all in a wide price range. Suggestions from VILLAGE JEWELERS for the off-to-college crowd include travel alarm clocks, charms and I.D. bracelets.

Had a fine (and delicious) time the other night, selecting a take-home dinner at BERNSTEIN'S DELICATESSEN. Let's have "some" roast beef . . . just a "little bit" of potato salad . . . "some" of those cabbage rolls . . . a couple of dill pickles . . . a couple more onion rolls . . . and just enough cheesecake for two. Now how many places can you order a dinner like that from an ever-patient and cheerful counterman, and know it will all be delicious? You can do it at BERNSTEIN'S . . . we know, 'cause we did . . . and you can just bet a blintz that we'll do it often.

We are intrigued with the decorating possibilities of the Sascha Brastoff, refillable candle holders at FIESTA CANDLE SHOP. These sculptured glass holders come in three sizes and five colors, for stunning conversation pieces of flattering, flickering candlelight.

For centuries, the lustrous glow of pearls has cast a spell over the female imagination. Your reporters admit they are both fond of these gems, and that the collection of cultured pearls at INTERNATIONALE, LTD. draws us back again and again. Found here are pearl rings, earrings, pins, bracelets and clasps for their custom length necklaces. These INTERNATIONALE, LTD. pearls are nothing short of magnificent. Excellent service here on re-stringing and re-styling pearls.

Panic-free party-giving . . . IF, dear lady, you have taken our advice and met Louis Reimers, master chef and competent caterer at L'ENTREE, Louis will cater a party for an "intimate few" or a "hungry hundred." His food is absolutely wonderful and, if need be, he'll provide china, silver, crystal and the serving/clean-up crew to go with them.

New arrival at IMPORTS INTERNATIONAL . . . Italian glassware shipment that includes stemware, vases and bowls. Also spotted here, back-to-school madras sportswear that would be at home in Bangkok or Boston. (The wrap-around, madras skirts at IMPORTS INTERNATIONAL are just right for suburban shopping, too.) Great idea here for dandy dorm decor, that won't break the budget . . . madras bedspreads in a marvelous array of colors. Just unpacked at IMPORTS INTERNATIONAL, leather sandals from Italy that would be perfect for "paddling" around dorm or campus.

CONFRONTATION

Bushman Had Money, Lost It, But Had Fun

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Francis X. Bushman was a man who earned millions as "King of the Movies," lost them — and his fans — after his family life was discovered, and still was able to say the fun he had was worth every penny.

He was a man who traveled in a gold-plated automobile, let 300 Great Danes romp on a 480-acre estate, then moved in leaner years to a stucco house in the suburbs.

He was a man who once needed 18 secretaries to answer his fan mail, then needed radio work to support himself.

Bushman died yesterday at 83 as he was pouring a cup of morning coffee. The Los Angeles County coroner's office, in an autopsy report, attributed his death to a "rupture of the heart."

"His passing marks the fall of one of the landmarks of Hollywood history," said Charlton Heston, president of the Screen Actors Guild. Heston starred in the remake of "Ben-Hur," a film Bushman made in 1925.

Bushman's movie career began in Chicago in 1911. It lasted, off and on, until his death.

"That he died with a movie role was the beautiful part of his passing," said his widow, Iva, 63. He was to have appeared in his first Western.

He made more than 400 movies, more than any other actor, living or dead.

Bushman's biographers said he earned between $6 million and $10 million at the height of his fame as a rugged leading man. Billboards proclaimed his profile the "handsomest face in the world."

A national poll elected him "King of the Movies" in an era when Charlie Chaplin, William S. Hart and Douglas Fairbanks Sr. were established stars.

He married four times. Leaving his first wife nearly ended his career.

His contract stipulated that his marriage be kept secret. When he sued for divorce to marry his leading lady, Beverly Bayne, his fans learned that their romantic idol had five children — and they deserted him by millions for a newcomer named Rudolph Valentino.

Between 1932 and the late '40s he made more than 5,000 radio broadcasts. His generosity — and the 1929 stock market crash — had hurt him, and he needed the money.

He returned to movies in 1943, and broke into television in the '50s.

Silver-haired and still handsome, he rewon some of his early fans when he served on the Mayor's Committee for the Affairs of the Aging.

Public Records Act Hearing Starts Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— An Assembly committee opened a two-day hearing today into proposed legislation which would make it easier to gain access to public records.

The proposed California Public Records Act is similar to the federal Freedom of Information Bill recently enacted by Congress.

Under the present state public records law, passed in 1872, a citizen has to prove that a document he wants to see is an official record. The proposed bill would place the burden on the agency to prove that it is not.

The sessions will be conducted by the Assembly Committee on Government Organization. Assemblyman Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, is chairman.

He and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, are coauthors of the bill.

"We have made considerable progress in California in protecting the people's right to be informed," Marks said. "We cannot fail to take this necessary step to guarantee those rights will be protected."

Valentino's Mourner

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I'm the original lady in black, whether anybody likes it or not," said Ditra Flame, placing a red rose near Rudolph Valentino's crypt.

The lady in black was wearing baby blue yesterday on the 40th anniversary of Valentino's death.

"I've been to every single anniversary," said Miss Flame, who formerly dressed in black, carried a basket of roses and arrived at the crypt in a black limousine.

'But in 1954 the thing got out of hand — people started coming in wild costumes — so I started visiting the crypt the night before."

Oregon Forests Closed As Fire Hazard Still Rises

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

A 45,000-acre fire in the Coast Range in Oregon was contained yesterday, but officials kept an anxious eye on the weather as the state's critical fire situation continued unabated.

State Forester J.E. Schroeder ordered a halt to all remaining logging operations in Western Oregon, and the Oregon Game Commission suspended several big game hunting seasons scheduled to open this weekend until further notice.

In eastern Oregon, emergency federal aid was being sought for cattle ranchers suffering from a prolonged dry spell.

The Coast Range fire, fourth largest in Oregon history, died down enough this week under a surge of moist marine air to permit crews to get a line around it. It started Saturday.

About 800 firefighters manned the lines Wednesday. Approximately 2,000 acres have been blackened by backburning.

Introduction of tranquilizers reversed the trend toward increasing population of mental hospitals, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association reports.

Freedom Swim Via Guantanamo

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Ten Cubans swam to exile via the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba.

"I was in the water 12 hours waiting for a chance to sneak through Fidel Castro's patrols to the base," Osmundo Frometa said yesterday.

The companions of the 36-year-old Frometa also said they had long swims.

U.S. military craft flew the refugees to Miami. They had lived near Guantanamo.

Frometa said, "You can see with horrible freuency in Guantanamo bay the floating bodies of people who didn't make it.'

PG&E Power Poles Moved In Inverness

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has begun moving back power poles along the east side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Inverness.

County public works director Donald R. Frost said his department has been trying for years to get poles moved away from the pavement. The PG&E project follows completion of a county job in which shoulderrs of the roadway were built up to allow room for pole relocation and create more room for pedestrians.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Board Moves Acquire Rights Dredging Land

Marin County supervisors yesterday made the first move toward acquisition of 9.2 acres in Richardson Bay needed for the Richardson Bay Dredging Project.

The board authorized title searches and appraisal on the property, which is in three, underwater lots. Supervisors also authorized preparation of application for federal open space grants that would cover half the cost of purchase. The other half would have to be covered by county funds, public works director Donald R. Frost said.

Speed-up in acquiring the property was forced by the Army Corps of Engineers' ruling that 300 rather than 200 feet right of way would be required for the dredging project.

The project, to be done under a recently formed assessment district, will open up boat access to the Mill Valley Small Craft Harbor.

The channel will be mostly on the underwater Railroad Avenue, a 200-foot-wide right of way. The three lots on the northeast side of Railroad Avenue would eventually have to be purchased, Frost said. He explained they are needed to provide a floodway in Richardson Bay from 900 to 1,100 feet wide.

Kappas also figured in another matter before the board yesterday. This was his application to fill a block between Shasta and Fresno streets at Waldo Point. Supervisors put this over a week, deciding they should take a look at a plan filed with the county by Kappas in 1952.

THE OLD GROANER AND THE TOP SOPRANO

Mill Valley's Jane Marsh posed with Bing Crosby as American Broadcasting Co. anounced she will be a guest star on the television show, "Hollywood Palace," on Sept. 17 with Bing as host. Miss Marsh's latest triumph was winning first prize in the Tschaikovsky Music Festival in Moscow. The "Hollywood Palace" show is seen here over KGO-TV at 9:30 p.m.

Hero Medal To Sergeant At Hamilton

A Hamilton Air Force Base staff sergeant has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry while going to the rescue of a downed fighter plane crew off North Viet Nam in March.

Sgt. Clyde W. Jackson III was flight mechanic on an amphibious plane that had landed near the downed men and assisted in their rescue as 25 enemy sampans bore down on the amphibian. At the same time, Jackson's plane came under heavy fire from enemy shore batteries.

Jackson's plane was destroyed by the enemy fire and he was wounded. He was subsequently plucked from the water by helicopters, which completed the original rescue mission.

Jackson, now living at Hamilton, also received the Purple Heart for that action, and the Air Medal, first through fourth Oak Leaf Clusters for his Vietnamese service from October, 1964, through last March.

School Architect Interviews Set

Sausalito School District Board will meet at 6:30 p.m. today at the district office to interview architects.

The meeting was reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal as set for 8 p.m., the board's usual meeting time. This was incorrect.

The meeting was first announced as a closed meeting, but will be open to the public in accordance with California law.

PEACE SIREN STILLED

By STEPHEN COOK

What would be the international ramifications if the San Anselmo fire horn were to signal daily for community residents to turn their thought toward peace?

This was a question the San Anselmo City Council pondered last night. The answer came in a unanimously passed motion to table the whole matter.

Mrs. Muriel H. Alstrom of 383 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, Bay Area director of Minute for Peace, asked that the council designate the noon fire siren as signal for residents to take a minute for peace.

"There is disharmony, discord, fear and aggression in the world," she said. "We want to move the power of thought to the constructive from the destructive."

Councilman Duane C. Ragan wanted to know who was sponsoring the organization. Mrs. Alstrom responded there is no organization, just individuals seeking a world at peace.

Park and Recreation Director Andrew J. Snyder asked if the United States government has endorsed the movement.

"No," said Mrs. Alstrom, but it has been endorsed by Secretary General U Thant of the United Nations, the City of New York, San Francisco, Fairfax, Corte Madera, and Sausalito, among others.

City Atty. John G. Buresh interjected:

"I'm sure Mrs. Alstrom's motives are the highest, but I wonder, with all the fire horns in the country signaling peace at noon, if this wouldn't just strengthen the resistance of the people we're fighting over there?"

"Will the same appeals be made to China?" asked Councilman Robert M. Scott. "If they go it, I'll go it."

Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro suggested this "leaves us wide open to anyone else who comes in asking for the horn to signal this or that." He moved to table the matter.

After the unanimous vote to table, Councilman Arthur W. Smith said to Mrs. Alstrom: "I'm sure we're all for peace."

Senior Council Fears Housing Plan's Death

Fears that the county may go back on its promise of low-rent housing for the elderly were expressed today by the Senior Coordinating Council, after the planning commission's rebuff Monday to the Homestead Valley housing project.

The commission voted 3-to-1 in support of Zoning Administrator Thomas Cordill's ruling limiting the number of units in the proposed development to 20. The dissenting vote was cast by Commissioner Michael Paszker, who is opposed to the entire project.

The Marin County Housing Authority has seven days to appeal that decision to the supervisors.

Vera Schultz, senior council president, said the 20-unit limitation "spells the death knell of that project." The housing authority, Mrs. Schultz said, made it clear at the hearings that the cost of the site at 342 Linden Lane makes 30 units "an absolute minimum" under federal regulations. Otherwise, she said, "Washington will abandon the project."

In the 1964 elections, the council president said, Marin voted overwhelmingly in favor of providing 200 low-rent units for the elderly and last November, the board of supervisors approved the master plan for older adults.

The plan, Mrs. Schultz said, calls for providing "housing for them within or near existing communities instead of shunting them off into the hinterlands where land is cheaper . . .

"Apparently the planning commission thinks 20 units for 30 people is fine, but 30 units for 40 people is a menace. I hope the board of supervisors will not go along with this numbers game."

The project drew strong neighborhood opposition on the grounds that it will add to traffic congestion in the area, introduce multiple housing in single residential zone, and violate density standards.

Police Escort Cross Couple Home To Face Theft Trial

Former Corte Maderan Richard Cross and his wife were headed to San Francisco by plane today to stand trial on charges of stealing jewelry worth half a million dollars from the fashionable shop where Mrs. Cross was employed.

Three San Francisco officers, including a policewoman, escorted the Crosses from Tenerife in the Canary Islands, where they were arrested in April, to Madrid, the Associated Press reported.

Spanish police at Tenerife in April found jewels worth about half a million dollars, including a solid gold necklace studded with 227 diamonds, in the couple's luggage when they were arrested there in April.

The jewels allegedly were stolen from Shreve's in San Francisco, where Mrs. Cross was employed.

Cross was injured in a fire in a home he was renting at 296 Summit Drive, Corte Madera, on April 11, 1962. He subsequently moved to San Francisco.

Dredge-Fill Plans Before Commission

Two Marin dredge-and-fill projects will be before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission when it meets at 2 p.m. on Sept. 1 in the North Continental Parlor, Room 7 and 8, of the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco.

Commissioners will vote on an application of Kappas Yacht Harbor in Richardson Bay to raise the level of the existing roadway and pier.

They will also consider an application of the County of Marin for removal of an condition of the permit for the Corte Madera Flood Control project prohibiting placing spoils on the Muzzi property, south of Corte Madera Creek and east of Highway 101.

VOYDAT DEFENDED

Board Blasts CTA Report

Members of the San Rafael board of education and the assistant superintendent of schools got together last night to blast a June report by the California Teachers Assn. ethics commission.

Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat said the report smacked of "witch-hunting, the Spanish Inquisition and the tactics of the Gestapo."

Voydat was a principal target of the 55-page CTA report based on interviews with 117 persons—board members, school administrators, teachers and private citizens. It accused him of "administrative weaknesses, lack of sound judgment, absence of empathy, ineptness," and called for his resignation.

Voydat said at last night's board meeting that he had been given no chance to present his rebuttal to accusations the commission embodied in the report. When the report appeared, he was in Texas, teaching a class in school administration at an all-Negro university.

The report as it pertained to him, he said, contained "half-truths, omissions, misrepresentations and falsehoods, just plain lies."

Board member Anita C. Strom agreed and quoted a proverb: "A half truth is a whole falsehood."

Fellow board member Herman L. Childress said: "The investigation was not conducted in a proper way. It was an accumulation of opinions. It was someone's condensation of many statements. Mr. Voydat must be given every opportunity to show the report was wrong."

Board President Carl J. Brown said: "I also feel a person that is judged guilty, without being given a chance to speak, has not been given his rights as a citizen."

Brown admitted that "some mistakes have been made," but said the board had "been through a trying year" and had "learned frorm those mistakes." He said the board should now "get behind Mitch (Voydat) and make this the best district there is."

Board members Lawrence I. Kramer and Walter R. Castro were absent.

SHEPHERD DOG BANNED FROM SAN ANSELMO

The San Anselmo City Council last night ordered Sam removed from the city within a week, after 17 neighbors complained in a letter and in person that Sam is "a vicious, uncontrollable animal constituting a menace to the public."

Impetus for the movement to give Sam his walking papers was his attack on Mrs. Ramona Croce of 11 Rancho Drive Sunday night, while she stood on a neighbor's porch.

Mrs. Croce, who displayed a four-inch wound on her back, said Sam charged at her from his yard across the street, leaped onto the porch and bit her. Her husband, Edward, said residents of the block are afraid to go out at night because the dog is out

Appraisal Differences Stifle Peacock School

Plans for an elementary school at Peacock Gap were put in limbo last night by the San Rafael Board of Education because of a wide difference in land appraisals.

Appraisers for Latipac Corp., owner of the 25-acre site near the old McNear's barn, have valued the land at $514,800. Appraisers for the school district stand it's worth $208,800.

Acting Supt. William C. Jordan told the board that a 10 per cent difference is customary in appraisals, but "a 150 per cent difference is unheard of."

Charles L. Condrotte, schools business manager, said condemnation proceedings have begun, but the schools should continue to negotiate in the meantime.

Asst. County Counsel Richard Godino is conferring with the school's appraisers to determine the basis of their valuation, Condrotte said.

The uncertainty of the site acquisition forced the board to postpone approval of preliminary plans presented by Chester Bowles Jr. of the architectural firm of Marshall and Bowles.

Bowles had arrived at the board meeting with elaborate models showing the site before grading and leveling and afterwards. Also presented were elaborate drawings of floor plans and elevations.

The three board members present, Carl J. Brown, Anita C. Strom and Herman L. Childress, expressed themselves as highly impressed and pleased by the plans, but reluctantly advised Bowles that they were unable to proceed.

Shoots of European beachgrass planted on sand dunes to prevent erosion represent a land conservation technique developed in Normandy, France, a century ago.

Governor Has Alaska Demo Nomination

With 250 of 402 precincts in the state counted, Kay trailed Gov. William A. Egan by about 5,000 votes. The count was 12,011 to 7,138.

Anchorage hotel man Walter J. Hickel pulled well ahead in the Republican gubernatorial nomination with 6,380 votes against 2,625 for another Anchorage hotel executive, Bruce Kendall, and 2,360 for Mike Stepovich, one-time territorial governor.

In the Democratic race for the U.S. House of Representatives, Rep. Ralph J. Rivers held a 10,018 to 8,991 margin over Mike Gravel of Anchorage, speaker of the State House of Representatives. State Sen. Howard W. Pollock of Anchorage, unopposed for the Republican nomination, had 9,755.

Other unofficial returns from the 250 precincts showed Sen. E.L. Bartlett far ahead in the Democratic senatorial nomination race. Bartlett had 16,561, T.J. Bichsel of Anchorage had 1,122, Robert L. Beach of Soldotna had 745 and David N. Boyer of Kenai had 524.

He'll Never Touch A Police Car Again

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Lee Emmanuel, 6, was worried after he pulled the trigger of a shotgun locked in a special clamp in a police car, blasting a hole in the car roof.

"I hope I didn't kill God," the boy said.

Lee was among a group of children touring the Benton Harbor police station Monday. Nobody was injured in the incident.

Police Chief Merle McCarroll said the shotgun should not have been loaded.

Brown Predicts Housing Surge

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The federal government will ease the "tight money" situation within the next 10 days to permit at least 20,000 new housing starts in California, Gov. Edmund G. Brown predicted yesterday.

Brown predicted passage of compromise legislation in Congress which would pump $4.6 billion into the Federal National Mortgage Assn. The association would use the money to buy up mortgage paper from lending institutions, indirectly providing money to finance new housing development.

The governor said passage of the measure would mean up to a $1 billion boost to the slumping California home building industry.

Airport Deal Voted Pending A Rewrite

A $126,560 land purchase agreement for expansion of the Marin County Airport near Novato was all but approved yesterday by the board of supervisors.

Full approval — expected at next week's board meeting — was postponed at suggestion of Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen to permit rewriting of a portion of the agreement which might affect the lost of future land acquisition in the vicinity.

The agreement, conditional on federal appropriation of development funds in September, provides for payment to the Wright family of $68,650 for purchase of 27.46 acres, $6,280 for an easement on 5.06 acres, $10,000 for reversionary rights on the present runway, and $45,000 for purchase of another 21.5 acres.

The latter acreage is being purchased largely at the suggestion of Kettenhofen, who noted a few weeks ago that the original agreement provided for payment of $25,000 in severance rights on that land to the Wrights.

Later, the Federal Aviation Agency advised the county that it would not reimburse the county for payment of severance damages.

Claiming that the county would be paying out $25,000 and winding up with nothing, Kettenhofen persuaded his fellow supervisors it would be better to put up an additional $20,000 and get the land.

Yesterday's hitch developed when Kettenhofen objected to wording of a part of the agreement by which the Wrights would buy for $3,000 some 2.1 acres from the county not needed for the airport and give the county an easement valued at $1,200.

Kettenhofen wanted these items separated to provide that the county would sell the land for $4,200 and then purchase the easement for $1,200. The net to the Wrights would be the same, Kettenhofen argued, but the effect would be to establish a $2,000-an-acre value in the area. This would be an important bargaining point, he said, should the county elect to purchase a neighboring parcel of 5.1 acres later.

The board instructed county real estate representative Robert A. Middagh to negotiate this final provision with the Wright family.

Hearing Set For Accused Child Beater

Eugene A. Boehm is to have preliminary hearing Friday at 9:30 a.m. in Marin Municipal Court on a felony charge of child beating.

Hearing for the 21-year-old Boehm was scheduled late yesterday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas. The judge also ruled that Boehm will be defended by the public defender's office, although Public Defender Jerome Durham had reported the accused man had sufficient assets to hire his own attorney.

Boehm is accused of beating 16-month-old Timothy Wayne Buckley, who died last Thursday in Marin General Hospital of what an attending physician reported were the worst injuries of their nature he had eve seen.

The child's mother, Mrs. Roberta Marie Buckley, 21, was to enter plea yesterday to a charge of failing to report the beatings to police, but Judge Thomas continued her plea until this afternoon.

He said her preliminary hearing probably will be combined with that for Boehm, but to avoid conflict of interest, he will appoint an attorney other than the public defender's office. Mrs. Buckley, a waitress at a San Rafael drive-in cafe, said she has no funds to hire a lawyer.

Modern Tom Sawyer To Return In Style

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (UPI) —A teen-aged runaway from California who rode freights across country with his big collie dog on a Tom Sawyer-like trip will return to his home in Stockton in style.

Police said the 15-year-old boy would ride home inside a train instead of on the outside as he has been doing the past month. His dog will ride the train back too.

Assistant Police Chief C. T. (Buck) Howe said the youth, Thomas Edward Pohle, was picked up on Monday in Fort Collins railroad yards. The boy and his dog were riding atop a freight car heading for Montana.

The boy and dog carried only $17 between them. The boy carried seven one-dollar bills. "We asked him where the rest was and he whistled for his dog," Howe said. "He had a $10 travelers check under the dog's collar in a little purse."

The law officer said a bum entered a box car where the youth was staying one night and came at the boy. "The next thing he knew, the bum was going out the door with the dog right behind him. That dog stays with him (the boy) wherever they go, and he's loyal."

Howe took the boy and his dog home and gave the youth some clean clothes and a hot meal—the first the boy had had in weeks. "Both he and the dog are feeling all right now," Howe said.

In Stockton, the boy's mother said she was sure he "didn't intend to cause us any worry."

Mrs. Mary T. Pohle said her son left six weeks ago with his dog and a friend for El Paso, Tex. They rode in a freight train caboose to Texas to spend two weeks on a ranch.

"I'm sure he didn't intend to cause us any worry," she added. "But I've been under a strain since he left, and I'm very relieved."

State Safe Car Crusade Gets Into High Gear

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Inspection of passenger vehicles by the California Highway Patrol in step two of the "safe car" crusade got under way Monday in six locations, Bradford M. Crittenden, commissioner, announced.

Six teams, consisting of four traffic officers and one civilian anti-smog device expert, are working out of patrol offices in Redding, Sacramento, San Francisco, Fresno, Los Angeles, and San Diego.

Inspections are taking place in specially marked roadside lanes, and are being made on a limited scale because "we are trying something new and we want to learn all we can before expanding the operation to other sections of the state," Crittenden said.

No-defect stickers are given cars which pass inspection, and those which do not pass, are advised to have defects corrected.

Family Of Six Killed In Plane's Smashup

RONKONKOMA, N.Y. (AP)— An Air Force captain, his wife and four children were killed yesterday when their small rented plane crashed only miles from where they had spent a week swimming and visiting relatives.

Authorities were investigating the possibility that lightning struck Capt. Robert T. Shaw's six-seat Piper Comanche. The plane tumbled into an unopened section of the Long Island Expressway, killing the captain, 32, his wife, Joan, 28, and their children, Debroha, 9, Christine, 8, Jeff, 6, and James, 3.

Budget Approval To Be On Agenda

Larkspur City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. today in city hall, will be asked to adopt a final budget of $633,853.

The budget can be balanced with a tax rate of $1.90 per $100 assessed valuation, a drop of nine cents from last year, according to City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst.

Before adopting the budget, the council will be asked to approve a new budget proposal by the library board. The request, which includes provisions for librarian pay raises, is down $652 from the original request of $20,897, Bathurst said.

The council will also authorize call for bids on the project to extend Doherty Drive through to Lucky Drive. Estimated cost of the project is $38,500.

Highway Patrol Examinations Set

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Examinations will be held on Oct. 15 for the start of recruitment of 1100 new men for the California highway patrol, as authorized in the 1966-67 state budget.

Major legislation approved in 1965 provided for doubling of the uniformed strength of the CHP within three years, to be financed by a $3 increase in the cost of driver's licenses. The $3 increase was to take place in three steps of $1 each from 1966-68.

By 1969, the CHP's strength is expected to reach 6,000 men, or double that of 1964. The 1965-66 budget authorized 500 new officers and these already have completed or are nearing completion of a 16-week training course at the CHP academy in Sacramento.

The new men generally are sent to sections of highway with high frequency accident rates. About 250 new officers will be stationed in dangerous areas of Los Angeles by June of next year. The San Francisco bay area will get another 176 officers, and 22 will be sent to the Placerville section of U.S. 50.

New officers ride with veteran patrolmen for 30 days to become acquainted with local traffic problems, then are given solo assignments.

The bulk of the additional officers will be used in carrying out a policy developed after several pilot tests. These tests involved doubling the number of officers on highway sections which had high accident rates. One of these was a 36-mile segment of U.S. 101 near Oceanside.

During that test, the number of accidents dropped more than 13 per cent, compared to 1963, despite an 8 per cent increase in traffic volume.

Supervisors Balk At Miss Marin Cash

Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer got nowhere yesterday in a bid for a $100 county appropriation to send "Miss Marin," Shiela Cornett, to the Maid of California competition in Sacramento.

Strongest opponent was Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who charged it would be a gift of public funds.

"It's not very different from other promotion expenditures we've authorized," Storer said. "Let's talk to Jack Douglas." Douglas is county director of promotion and development.

"You can talk to God himself, but yeu're not going to change my vote," Leydecker fumed. "That's terrible. I can't see it."

Other supervisors were not so vocal, but they lined up with Leydecker.

Lovely Marin Landscape Better'n TV Violence

If Marin County had its own television station as it has its own radio station, a safe bet is that scenes of violence, flaming sex and crime wouldn't be among the leading daily attractions. Of course, this would be no safeguard against the daily chance to take part in a nationwide saturnalia of televised sex and violence to which everybody with a TV set is currently exposed. But we advance the thought that the Marin public, and doubtless thoughtful people everywhere, are beginning to wonder whether the idiot box isn't getting out of hand.

A survey by the Nation magazine in 1955 showed that as far back as 1953, acts and threats of violence in television programming were running at an average of 3,539 a week. The National Assn. for Better Radio and Television believes that, ever since 1951, shows featuring violence and brutality have been on the increase.

It is a temptation to blame some of our recent particularly horrible crimes upon this factor, TV being the all-pervasive medium it now is. Little evidence supports such a theory in any direct way. But can anyone doubt that impressionable minds, especially among our children, must be warped into abnormal viewpoints when much of our waking hours are spent in an abnormal entertainment atmosphere? (Of course, even the televised news plays a part, for such events as the saturnalia of the mad Texas college sniper must be televised if they are so protracted that camera crews can reach the scene. One can't complain of such news reporting if it is honestly handled, but it does add to a growth of insensitivity to the worst in life.)

Pleas for intelligent handling of sex in TV programs are valid. Harold Mehling, a writer on television programming, has put it succinctly: "There is nothing wrong with sex. What is wrong, though, is the institutionalization of leering, behind-the-barn sex, and that is what television has specialized in."

Hard though it may sometimes be to believe, the big networks have made efforts to keep undesirable features under control. Nobody wants to fall back on all-out censorship. Actually there is just one way to improve matters and that is by developing a wholesome atmosphere in the matter of acknowledged public acceptance. Polling systems are demonstrably far from perfect in providing a yardstick.

If enough people will tune off, better programs will be substituted for bad programs though admittedly it takes a while to register with the paying sponsors. Letters of disapproval certainly ought to help where it is a matter of selling products with the aid of television.

Whether your "no" vote will change an offensive program or not, it certainly pays to exercise one's great freedom of turning the little knob. We in Marin County are lucky. There is no need for anybody, young or old, to become a slave of the TV screen, to the extent of trying to stomach programs worthy only of prompt rejection.

In case of doubt, snap off your set and go outdoors. Chances are you will be just in time to see the sun setting over Mount Tamalpais, or maybe to herd a visiting deer out of your favorite flowerbed.

Animals Have Feelings Too

All too often we use the term "animal instincts" in a derogatory manner. Actually, some animals have more feeling than some of us supposedly superior human beings.

A case that illustrates this was recently brought to light by a New Hampshire conservation officer while investigating the illegal killing of a 1200-pound moose cow. While making frequent visits to the spot where the carcass lay, he found that an 800-pound bull and a 300-pound yearling bedded down near the body for 21 consecutive days.

The officer said, "This goes to show in my mind that even the so-called dumb animals have a feeling for the departed."

Old State Fair Will Close Gates, But It's Bowing Out In Style

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—One might think that the principals in a show with only two more times to go might let down in their effort to please the public, but quite the reverse is true of the California State Fair and Exposition, scheduled to open its gates for the next to the last time Aug. 31 and provide public entertainment and education through Sept. 11.

For if the state's plans are carried out on schedule, 1968 will provide the last exhibition at the old fairgrounds on Stockton Boulevard. And after that, the new and larger site north of Sacramento is scheduled to be ready for an opening in 1969, to offer the public a new concept of a state fair.

BUT THE FACT that the old fair contemplates closing its gates following the 1968 show has not in the least detracted from the effort of the state to offer this year what well may be the climax of the fair, which has more than a hundred year history in California.

Under the dynamic direction of Harrison Cutler, the secretary-manager of the event, the fair isn't going on as usual this year—it's going on much better than usual.

Although Cutler has been connected with the event for a good many years, this is his first season in full charge, and he is putting forth extra effort to provide all the things a fair should provide, and a few more thrown in for a bargain. It is his purpose, he says, to make the 1966 exhibition outstanding as an attraction to the public.

SO THIS YEAR and next year, still depending on the schedule, will provide the final opportunity for residents of California to see the old fair. It will also provide an opportunity for young people to view the exposition and carry with them memories of what it was like half a century hence.

Some people might ask whether these memories will be worth carrying. And the answer definitely is in the affirmative if one who can recall the fairs of a half century ago is asked.

THOSE WERE the days when there were picnics under the trees, if you could find a tree, and a Sacramento so full of people that fair visitors had to sleep in Capitol Park for want of accommodations.

They also were the days when the friendly railroads provided a couple of antiquated steam engines in the middle of the race track and crashed them head-on to provide thrills for the crowd.

THE PRIMARY purpose of a fair is to show the people what the residents of the state have accomplished over the past year, and to offer competition to build up the pride of accomplishment. And along with it, to provide some fun and frolic for the competitors and the public at large.

So, when you visit the fair this year, the purpose should be to store up some pleasant memories of what has been a traditional part of California life.

Supreme Court's Idea Opposed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re your August 17th editorial, "Marin Police Will Learn To Live With New Cards." Yes, indeed, or else they'll die. Die looking down the barrels of stolen guns held by well-known punks out on bail from one, two, and sometimes three other charges.

Come off it! Who are you trying to protect? The law-abiding, taxpaying citizen and the police who are trying to let him sleep o' nights—or the recidivist lawbreaker. The lawbreaker knows his rights—he LEANS on them—he counts on the "naughty-naughty" slap on the wrist, the psychiatric look-see, the whole bit.

And that crack about an incipient "police state" really grabs me. We do not now have, nor intend to have, a police state. But make no mistake, we DO intend to have law and order. People are pretty fed up with the current "thug state" nurtured and fostered by well meaning do-gooders who shed buckets of tears over "poor, sick" punks. How about the injured parties? The citizens who are robbed, beaten, raped or murdered? What — no tears for them?

Repeaters are well known to all Marin police. Heck, they've arrested them before, haven't they? And whoops, here they come again—out on bail—armed with stolen artillery — and counting on a recital of their rights while they take aim. Refresh your memory as to how many stolen weapons are loose in the county, then ride around with a lone cop on a hot weekend when the moon is full and see what gives. Mighty educational. If one of our judges (bless him) could do it, so can you. And for heaven's sake, quit sniping at our police. They're trying to do impossible jobs while authorities "rest assured."

As for Roy Dugger, newcomer to Marin, whose letter of Aug. 20 hit an outrageous high in assininity re laws and law enforcement — be of good cheer, Neighbor Dugger. With our growing, UNSENTENCED criminal population in Marin you stand an excellent chance of being rescued from a sticky situation by the police. And may you choke on your own adjectives, chum.

There Already Is A Law

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I started out to write about a lot of things, but I suppose I had better confine this to one of the most ridiculous things I have ever heard of. It seems we are now in a debate as to whether to make a law against "aiding the enemy."

Since when has there NOT been a law against that?

Isn't it treason? For heaven's sake!

What Is The Cost Of Our Help?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding the article on Social Services Bureau and Welfare Dep't. by Iva Ehmann of Ross under County Services??? it is interesting to note that the total, according to these figures, come to $7,803,279.40. Prorated over the 1,100 indigents of our county, this comes to $7,093.89 per indigent. With these 15 NEW high salaried employees plus the existing employees plus the total operating expenses of the dep'ts, how much goes to the indigents and how much goes to the total costs of operations?

It would be interesting, Mr. Bruce and Mr. Campanella, to have a breakdown in the costs of these total operations and let we tax-payers know how many dollars it costs us to get one dollar to the indigent. Who is on Welfare? the Social Services Dep't. the indigent or the Welfare Dep't. Please keep this in mind Mr. Bruce, that after paying our increased taxes on all of these County Services???? we, the tax-payers, will also be applying for Welfare. Where will you raise the money to pay us then. Don't come back and say that it will come from Federal and State funds for it is all one and the same thing, ALL out of our pockets.

With real estate sales and building falling off so greatly over the past couple of years how can the county give higher and higher assessed valuations and higher market valuations when we all know that the supply has far exceeded the demand for properties thusly decreasing valuations. Who is kidding who? After giving a competent appraisal of the Welfare that I can see is to have a position, not a job, with the county, and let the indigents pay the taxes.

Real Issue Is Outmoded Car

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your recent editorial urging the construction of a second deck on the Golden Gate bridge ends with an admonishment that it should not go by default because the San Francisco Board of Supervisors "doesn't want to face up to the issue."

I can think of no action that ducks the issue so completely as that of hanging another deck on the bridge.

The real issue is simply that the automobile is out-moded as commuter transportation. It is strangling the cities, destroying our most valuable suburban and rural land, polluting the atmosphere — and it is incredibly inefficient. Any regular commuter knows only too well that the auto pipeline is at capacity from Novato to downtown San Francisco, and much to the latter area is literally strangling in autos. Only recently the citizens of San Francisco made known through their supervisors that they didn't wish to cement over more of their city for the benefit of the Marin commuter. So what is the answer? A second deck on the bridge in the hopes of getting more autos into a city already being destroyed by them? That action will accomplish nothing except create a lever for the State Highway Department to use in arguing for more and wider bridge approaches, which leads to more and wider freeways, and another Waldo tunnel, etc.

Public rapid transit — water and rail — is the modern, efficient and civilized answer to the commute problem. To talk about putting a second deck on the bridge, as even a short range solution, is to defy all reason.

RHODE ISLAND'S Theodore Francis Green, who died recently at the age of 98, was still active in the U. S. Senate only six years before—a genial, jaunty, humor-loving, conscientious politician who believed in giving his constituents a square deal. Senator Green was still playing tennis at 88, and flirting with pretty girls at 94. He loved parties. At one Washington soiree, his hostess caught him leafing hurriedly through his date book. "Ah, Senator," she chided. "Trying to find out where you're due next, eh?" "Not at all," replied Senator Green. "I'm trying to find out where I am now."

IF YOU EXPECT to drive a car in England, warns an Indianapolis legislator just back from London, driving on the "wrong" side of the road is not the only thing you'll have to remember. England's signs language differs from ours. For example, "EXIT" is "WAY OUT"; "WATCH FOR FALLEN ROCK" is "LOOSE CLIPPINGS"; "DIVIDED HIGHWAY" is "DUAL CARRIAGEWAY"; "OVERPASS" is "FLYOVER"; "ROAD SHOULDER" is "VERGE"; "UNDER REPAIR" is "ROAD UP," and "DETOUR" is "DIVERSION."

Maybe you'll see more of the country side if you travel by rail or bus!

Wheat Reserve At Dangerous Low, Food-For-Peace Program Imperiled

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has taken much of farm policy decision-making into his own hands to rescue the "Food for Peace" program.

This is a far-reaching political and policy development.

It reflects the President's deep distress—and dissatisfaction—with the Department of Agriculture's rigid, over-preoccupation with cutting down the nation's wheat reserves and its inability to reverse its policy in time to avert the most harmful consequences.

It will take a year or longer to repair them. They are these:

THE DEPARTMENT of Agriculture has been allowing our grain reserves to dwindle and dwindle at the very time when dire hunger is stalking much of the world — in India, Pakistan, North Africa, the Middle East.

We have been putting ourselves in the untenable position of inducing U.S. farmers not to grow wheat at the very moment when the world's need for wheat has been mounting.

The failure to untrack the keep-reserves-down fixation of the Agriculture Department has gravely undercut the U.S. "Food for Peace" program as the most humane and friend-making instrument of foreign policy at the moment of greatest need and opportunity.

THE U.S. IS now forced to cut back 25 per cent of our commitments of grain to food-impoverished peoples.

In some instances we must renege on treaty obligations because of our unnecessary shortages.

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman's decision to allow 30 per cent more acreage to be planted to wheat is tardy, grievously tardy, and any repair of all this damage to U.S. foreign policy — and to our own reserves — is some time in the future.

None of this need have happened.

THE DEPARTMENT of Agriculture has lived with overly high farm surpluses at high storage costs so long that, perhaps, it just couldn't be flexible enough to free itself from its determination to get the surpluses down even when the need arose to build them up.

For many months Mr. Freeman was pooh-poohing the prospect of there being any danger whatsoever for not enough U.S. grain to meet all domestic, export, and "Food for Peace" commitments.

He gave this assurance to the President and the press early this year when he said there would be ample wheat. And in April he assured Congress that we could meet our obligation without going below adequate domestic reserves.

ALL OF THESE estimates have been wrong and we are in the plight of having allowed our grain reserves to drop to little more than half of the needed amount. This could have been entirely avoided.

Much of the credit for getting the full facts to the President and getting the National Security Council into the picture belongs to Vice President Hubert Humphrey — and in part to Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who began to be concerned several months ago.

Mr. Humphrey has long been raising his voice to warn that the government ought to be encouraging U.S. farmers to grow more rather than less and has now been heeded.

Congressional Medal Asked For Seabee

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has one of those rare opportunities to give a unique new meaning to the Congressional Medal of Honor.

He can do this by awarding the nation's highest military decoration to the first SEABEE —a valiant young enlisted man who gave his life while working to build and defend a free South Viet Nam.

An unannounced Defense Department recommendation that this distinction be given posthumously to SEABEE Marvin G. Shields (CMA3), whose wife and 8-year-old daughter live at Port Townsend, Washington, is on the President's desk awaiting his approval.

The unprecedented recommendation was sent to the White House several weeks ago by Defense Secretary McNamara after the Navy proposed the Medal of Honor for Shields "for supreme gallantry and extraordinary heroism in action above and beyond the call of duty."

If the President authorizes the award, it will be the fifth Medal of Honor for exceptional gallantry in the Viet Nam conflict. The four others were awarded to Army personnel.

THE REPORT that accompanied the Navy's recommendation portray's the 26-year-old SEABEE as one of a new breed of builder-fighters that makes up the famed service's expanding 10,000-member corps. Eighty per cent of this force is now in Viet Nam.

More are enroute, and others are being recruited as these skilled craftsmen are in heavy demand there. Their 13-man building teams are highly regarded by both the U.S. and South Viet Nam authorities.

Young Shields died from wounds sunstained while his unit, SEABEE Team 1104, was assistang in desperate fighting to defend Special Forces Camp at Dong Xoai, 55 miles north of Saigon, against human wave attacks by some 2,000 Viet Cong on June 10, 1965.

A rocket launcher squad led by 1st Lt. Charles Williams, camp commander, who recently was awarded the Medal of Honor for his role in the battle, and SEABEE Shields, dashed outside the camp and destroyed several Red machineguns that were inflicting severe casualties.

WHILE ASSISTING a wounded officer to safety, Shields was wounded in the face, neck and back. Although mortally hit, he continued fighting with his rifle and hand grenades.

Throughout the fierce battle he helped to shield Vietnamese civilians, many of whose huts he had built in his off-hours. He also buoyed the morale and spirits of the hard-pressed defenders by kidding and encouraging them until he expired as reinforcements arrived.

The village of Dong Xoai, which the SEABEES have since rebuilt, was nothing more than charred ruins after the three-day battle that cost the Viet Cong attackers 800 dead. Of the nine participating SEABEES, two died and the others were wounded.

After the fight, the villagers, still dazed, went around asking, "Where is our Ong Bong! Our Ong Bong! Is he dead?" Ong Bong is their word for water beetle, the name they gave the SEABEES.

TODAY the memory of Shields lives on in Viet Nam.

The SEABEE camp at Chu Lai is named after him. The Vietnamese in Dong Xoai say they will never forget him and what he and his fellow SEABEES did for their village. In time, they hope to erect a memorial where Shields built, fought and died.

One villager told a Navy inquiry team: "Our Ong Bong loved, helped and gave us hope for a better future. His life was our shield. He died for us. What better friend or neighbor could one have?"

Murray And Reed Board Are At A Literacy Impasse

LIKE A chess game played by mail, the dispute between the Reed School District Board and James Murray of Tiburon has reached an impasse.

Last week, the board referred Murray's second request that he be allowed to read samples of student writings to the district staff for study. Murray said he would wait until he sees what the staff does before acting further.

Neither Murray nor the board has called checkmate, or even draw, yet.

The match began when Murray wrote the board "as a citizen and taxpayer" with his request to see if seventh and eighth grade pupils "know how to spell and form an English sentence."

Backed by the opinion of Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, Board President James B. Atkin wrote Murray that he couldn't see pupil writings. To do so would violate the state education code concerning an individual pupil's privacy, he said.

DISAGREEING. Murray countered with a letter asking that pupils write unsigned essays for him to look at. He suggested the board order the essay writing.

The board, in referring the matter to the staff, thought Murray's latest request touched on a larger issue. "The question is: can the board order students so a taxpayer can look at their writing?" Atkin explained.

The irritated board generally thought it couldn't. "We've offered to let him see district-wide test results, that's all we can do," Atkin said.

While not saying the board could order the essay writing, board member David D. Ring asked if, during the school year, a composition class was assigned to write anonymous essays "can there be anything wrong in it?" It would not be much different than the pupils writing essays for public schools week, he commented.

BOARD MEMBER Alyce L. Farkas, however, wondered whether Murray "was qualified to determine what achievement for an individual child is? We might find ourselves with one bad paper waved under our noses," she warned.

"He's a drop-out educator," Mrs. Farkas said. Murray wrote that he was once in the School of Education and an English major at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The board, holding firm, then turned Ring's suggestion over to the staff for study. Atkin said he would advise Murray by letter.

Murray said later that he agreed that the board had no right to compel the pupils to write unsigned essays. But he would still like to know first-hand if Reed District seventh and eighth graders can read and write good English, he said.

Some Problems Perplex, But Everyone Is An Economist

WASHINGTON — The three things that seem to disturb Americans this summer are the Viet Nam war, the racial unrest in the cities, and the status of the economy.

While the first two are very perplexing to the average person, the nation's economy is something everyone understands, particularly if one keeps abreast of the government pronouncements as well as reading what our leading economists have to say. It was fortunate to run into an economist at a cocktail party the other day who was most reassuring about the future.

"You seem worried," he said kindly.

"I am," I admitted. "I'm worried about inflation."

"YOU HAVE NOTHING to worry about. It's true that there is inflation at the moment, but, you know, a little inflation isn't really a bad thing."

"It isn't?"

"I'm not saying it's a good thing," he said. "But when you have a booming economy, prices tend to rise. The important thing is to produce more. Yet the danger is that, if you produce more, you have a shortage of labor and materials which drives wages and prices up."

"Then it would be better if we had less employment and people didn't buy so much?"

"Not necessarily. If people buy less, you have a recession problem, and while you don't want your economy to heat up too fast, you certainly wouldn't want it too cool off, would you?"

"HECK, NO," I said. "I think it should be like wine and be kept at room temperature."

"Of course, there's the British pound," he said casually.

"What about the British pound?" I cried in alarm.

"It's waging quite a fight against devaluation."

"What's that got to do with us?"

"My dear fellow, it has absolutely everything to do with us. If they devalue the pound, do you think the dollar could defend itself?"

"I was hoping it could," I said honestly.

"Not without vast gold reserves. Unfortunately, our reserves are down, particularly since France has been cashing in her dollars."

"I knew France was behind all our troubles," I said.

"IT ISN'T just France. The real problem seems to be our military commitments in Germany."

"I knew if it wasn't the French it would be the Germans."

"I would say it wasn't the Germans as much as the American tourist. He's spending all our hard-earned dollars abroad."

"The dirty rat," I snarled.

"Yet I think we could weather all this if it weren't for the wage guidelines set up by the Administration."

"They're too low?"

"Not according to management. You see, management is caught in a profit squeeze. It isn't easy for them."

"Poor management."

"YET LABOR DOES have a point in that the guidelines are unrealistic. You have to take into consideration the cost of living index when you talk about labor. Of course, if we had a tax increase, it might be another solution to our problems."

"I should hope so," I said gratefully.

"Would you like to hear my theory as to why the price of bread has gone up again?" he asked.

"I wouldn't miss it for the world."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Daydreaming, Dawdling Teens Going Through Very Normal Stage

VAN DELLEN

A Detroit mother writes: "My teen-ager dawdles and seems to loaf most of the time. He looks at the ceiling and when we ask him what he is doing, he replies, 'I'm thinking.' He does well in school and is not addicted to TV or radio. Is this ordinary day-dreaming or a mental disorder?"

A teen-ager is neither a child nor an adult and has many problems centering about friends, work, being in love, and his future, etc. dawdling can be very annoying to parents, especially to those who are swift moving and ambitious. Too much criticism may lead to a feeling of disapproval or "being pushed around." In other words mother and dad should not become "nags." They should be more patient because this phase is a part of growing up. At this age taking all day to do a task is not laziness provided other responsibilities are not shirked.

MOST CHILDREN go through periods when they dally over all their tasks. They prefer to sit and cogitate, rather than get on with the business at hand. They must be reminded to do Saturday's chores such as washing the car. Girls often spend hours acting out their fantasies. They are most always dreamy or slow moving.

The best approach is to separate the things that must be done at a certain time from those where dawdling is permissible. Get an alarm clock that goes off when they are to get up. Have them reset it again to signal the time to be washed, dressed, to eat breakfast, and to be off to school. In other words, shift the responsibility to them, but time it to correspond to their leisurely pace.

ON THE OTHER hand, there is no reason why they should rush doing the dishes or eating breakfast on weekends. Who cares if it takes all day to mow the lawn or clean the car? Let them feel free to proceed at their own pace or to daydream —so long as they meet their obligations.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

NERVOUS HEART

O. A. writes: Can anything be done to cure effort syndrome?

REPLY

In this nervous disorder, slight exertion induces palpitation, shortness of breath, and weakness. The heart is sound, however, even though the patient fears it is about to fall apart. Synonyms for this condition are neurocirculatory asthenia, irritable heart, soldier's heart, and cardiac neurosis. Psychotherapy is needed for cure.

SWOLLEN FEET

A reader writes: I am pregnant and feel well except for my feet, which are badly swollen. Should I mention this to my obstetrician?

REPLY

Yes. There are many causes for this condition and it should be brought to his attention. After all, why are you consulting him every month?

"GIN" OR "GUY"

B. D. writes: What is the correct pronunciation of gynecologist? Many people say it is as it looks—guy—but I think it is pronounced gin like the cotton gin.

REPLY

SLEEPY PINKIES

S. W. writes: What is the cause of two little fingers falling asleep at night?

REPLY

Numbness results from nerve pressure, poor circulation, or anemia. A change in position brings temporary relief, so roll them over to wake them up and then you will go back to sleep.

B12 INJECTIONS

J. O. writes: Please tell me what conditions call for the use of vitamin B12 shots.

REPLY

Vitamin B12 is a specific remedy for pernicious anemia. Some physicians prescribe large doses (1000 mcq.) as a tonic but we do not know whether this is of real or psychological value.

GLAND ENLARGEMENT

REPLY

Glands in these areas may enlarge as a result of a localized infection or a generalized disorder involving the lymph glands. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on lymphadenitis.

RELATED DISORDERS

F. B. writes: Could a person suffer from stomach ulcer and spastic colitis at the same time?

REPLY

Yes, and many do.

Anti-War Bill Is Approved By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities gave unanimous approval today to administration-opposed legislation to slap stiff criminal penalties on the activities of some anti-Viet Nam war groups.

In less than an hour, the full committee ratified the amended bill approved yesterday by the subcommittee which conducted four tumultuous days of investigation into the groups, which contend that the United States is guilty of aggression in Viet Nam.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said the bill will be brought promptly before the House.

Overwhelming House passage of the controversial bill is expected, but it may face death in the Senate where the Democratic and Republican leaderships are less than enthusiastic about it.

The committee vote today was 7 to 0, with two comittee members absent, Reps. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., and George F. Senner Jr., D-Ariz.

Amendments ratified by the full committee delete prohibitions on advising, urging or counseling persons to send supplies, give blood or otherwise help enemies of the United States, or to block U.S. troop and materiel shipments.

The subcommittee also reduced the penalties for obstructing troop movements to a maximum $10,000 fine and five years in prison. But it left the penalties for sending aid to the nation's enemies at a maximum of $20,000 fine and 20 years in prison.

Desert Town High

NEW YORK (UPI) —The highest temperature reported yesterday to the U.S. Weather Bureau, excluding Hawaii and Alaska, was 107 degrees at Blythe, Calif. The lowest reported this morning was 37 at Broadus, Mont.

San Diego TV Groups Protest Expansion Halt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two San Diego cable television companies are protesting a Federal Communications Commission order halting their expansion.

Attorneys for Southwestern and Mission cables companies argued in U.S. District Court of Appeals yesterday that the FCC does not have jurisdiction to stop their growth and that the companies were not violating any FCC regulation.

The attorneys also said the FCC proceedings did not include a hearing and were illegal on that basis.

The two companies bring Los Angeles television shows to the San Diego area for community antenna television distribution.

The FCC in February restrained Southwestern and Mission from installing new trunk and feeder lines pending a study of the effect of the cable operations on San Diego television stations.

Reagan Accused Of 'Distortions' On Crime Views

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Ronald Reagan is guilty of "unfortunate distortions which reflect a serious lack of knowledge about crime statistics and reporting" when he says California is experiencing a crime wave, the state's top prison official said yesterday.

The charge came from Richard A. McGee, administrator of the Youth and Adult Corrections Agency under Republican and Democratic administrations since 1944.

The Republican gubernatorial candidate frequently cites FBI statistics to show the state, with 9 per cent of the nation's population, has 17 per cent of the serious crime.

"We give the federal government full and complete statistics, but other states have conceded substantial under-reporting," McGee said.

He said the FBI cautions against use of the figures for state-by-state comparisons.

Some Stringent Rules For Rocket Amateurs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Amateur rocket-launchers take heed! The rocket you fire may violate government regulations.

Starting Lineups Announced For All-Star Grid Clash

By ROB HARVEY

The second annual Marin County North-South All-Star football game, scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow at Kentfield, shapes up as a near-even battle as both teams have come around exceptionally fast in the relatively short two-weeks of labor.

Willie Hector, head coach of the South, today announced that his squad is in the final stages of polishing up its offense and defense patterns, while head coach Harry Moore of Novato reported that the Northerners are doing likewise. After "a real good workout Monday," the North stars were a "little sluggish yesterday," Moore said, "but they should be pretty hungry by Thursday if my timeing is right."

Though injury struck the South camp with a thunderous blast, first to Honor Jackson of Tamalpais High and next to John Boothby, a halfback from Drake High, team moral is high, and the starting offensive and defensive lineups still show a luster on paper. Jackson, a defensive end, stained a knee ligament the second day of practice, and might not see action, and Boothby's chance to play in the prep grid classic was spoiled when he suffered a shoulder separation during a scrimmage last Thursday. Both injuries were cared for by Dr. Arnold Nutting, team physician.

Coach Moore reported minor injuries at the North camp, but said the entire squad should be able to go at full speed Thursday night.

Holding true since the first day of practice, it looks like its going to be a matter of the South "roadrunners" going against the North "bulls," speed against power, or visa-versa.

Both teams will use an I formation, the South with an unbalanced line and a split end to the strong side; the North with a balanced line, and multiple variations in the utilization of the halfback.

It should be quite a sight to see the respective North-South tailbacks, Dick Otis of Novato and Dean Lazzarini of Drake, dual head-and-head at least once more.

Otis was the Marin Athletic League's top rusher the past two years. He weighs 185 pounds and is a bundle of power. Larzarini, a 180-pound flashy speedster, was right on Otis' heels both years.

Giants Again Vault Into National League Lead

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Boy, Did I Get Wrong Number! Costly Candlestick Capers

I ATTEMPTED to phone South Coast Community Hospital in Laguna the other day to wish former I-J baseball columnist John J. Connolly good luck on his impending operation.

But somehow I got the wrong number. Oh BOY, did I get the wrong number!

"Chicken Delight," cackled the woman who answered the phone, sending me and the long-distance operator into a fit of hysterics.

John underwent surgery yesterday morning and was reported doing nicely.

Meantime, business has picked up for Chicken Delight, PT & T stock gained nearly a point. And me? My sides are still sore.

WHEN THE San Francisco Giants invite youth groups to attend their games free of charge, they expect the children to behave themselves. Ninety-nine per cent of them do.

An ugly incident arose at Candlestick Monday afternoon. Fifty boys and about a half dozen chaperones, who had come by bus all the way from Anderson, near Redding, were thrown out of the ballpark before the game, after several of the teen-agers were caught hurling objects and spitting on the fans in the lower deck.

Giant official Walter Mails, who supervises the youth program, and puts up with no guff, told them to get out and stay out. "We don't need that kind," the furious Mails stormed.

I'll bet that was a long bus ride back to Anderson that afternoon.

IF YOU ENJOY good baseball and/or softball you should plan to see that unique game at Mill Valley's Optimist Park next Sunday—the Mill Valley Merchants (semi-pro baseball) against the Sohner Tree Service (softball).

The purpose: To determine whether a good hardball team can make the adjustment to hitting the softball better than a good softball team can adjust to hitting the hardball.

One interesting angle: Keith Fraser, who pitches for Mill Valley and plays centerfield for Sohner's, will pitch the first five innings against his softball teammates. After the fifth inning big Keith says he will attempt to re-negotiate his contract.

Only Fraser and Sohner catcher Jess Munyon have played any hardball recently while no one on the Mill Valley roster has ever faced any softball pitching higher than Church League caliber. Munyon caught for Mill Valley in 1963-64.

Both teams are on winning streaks but if travel is broadening, the softballers should be favored. They have traveled 3,400 miles in playing more than 70 games this season; the Merchants, who rarely get out of Mill Valley, have played 15 games this season.

CALIFORNIA GOLFERS TV series will present a good all-Marin match Saturday, 4 p.m. on Channel 2: Kai Thomsen versus Air Force Col. Joe Worthington—both popular Marin Country Clubbers.

CHARLES DAVIS, former All-League basketballer at Redwood High who aspires to a coaching career, has started same—with a bang! Davis coached the Redwood team to the championship of the Tamalpais Junior Varsity Summer Basketball League. He's a student at Cal Western, San Diego.

HAPPY LITTLE LEAGUERS

Dodgers' Rally In 9th Tops Braves

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Maurry Wills are the highest-salaried Los Angeles Dodgers, but the man who fires their pennant drive is Lou Johnson.

Taking up where he left off in the late-season spurt of 1965, Johnson has played major roles in a Los Angeles winning streak of three games.

Last night the 32-year-old outfielder hit a leadoff single in the ninth inning to trigger a three-run rally that beat Atlanta, 8-7.

Monday night, in the series opener, Johnson beat the Braves, 4-3, with a two-out single in the 12th inning.

Sunday afternoon, the one-time baseball gypsy singled to start first and third-inning rallies that carried the Dodgers to a 4-1 conquest of St. Louis.

SAME ROLL

This is the same role Johnson played late last year when the Dodgers won 14 of their last 15 games to overtake San Francisco, which captured 14 in a row in September.

Among other things, he beat the Giants with a 15th-inning homer, toppled Milwaukee with a single in the 11th and hit a single to beat Cincinnati in the 12th.

Then he scored the winning run in the game that clinched the pennant and the winning run in the seventh and deciding game of the World Series against Minnesota.

The Dodgers were trailing, 7-5, when Johnson and Jim Gilliam hit ninth - inning singles last night against loser Clay Carroll (4-6). An error by Atlanta second baseman Woody Woodward let in one run, and Willie Davis won the game with a two-run single with two out.

The victory was the Dodgers' 22nd in 26 one - run games at home this year and it kept them three games behind San Francisco in the National League race.

ALOU HOMERS

Felipe Alou nearly won the game for the Braves when he climaxed a five-run rally in the seventh inning by hitting a homer with two aboard to put Atlanta ahead, 6-4. But a double by Ron Fairly and a single by Jim Lefebvre produced a Dodger run in the eighth.

Reliever Phil Regan was the victim of an unearned Atlanta run in the ninth but gained his 11th victory against one defeat.

The Dodgers scored their first four runs in the third inning. John Kennedy started the rally with a homer. A walk to Claude Osteen, a single by Wills and a triple by Wes Parker netted the next two runs. Parker scored on a double by Willie Davis.

OTHER SCORES

In other N. L. action yesterday, San Francisco took the league lead with a 7-3 win over Cincinnati and the Pittsburgh Pirates fell to second with a 5-4 loss to Philadelphia. St. Louis blanked Houston 3-0 on Bob Gibson's three-hitter and the New York Mets trimmed Chicago 4-1.

Bill White's second two-run single of the night snapped a 3-3 tie in the seventh, leading the Phillies past Pittsburgh. His first hit capped a three-run burst in the first inning and knocked out Pirate starter Vern Law, who failed to retire a batter.

Left-hander Chris Short yielded seven hits, including a three-run homer by Roberto Clemente in the fifth, en route to his 15th victory against seven setbacks.

Dal Maxvill drove in two St. Louis runs and scored the third, helping Gibson breeze to his 16th victory.

Marichal Hurls 7-3 Triumph

And San Francisco's Giants held the National League lead for the first time in 20 days.

Marichal, a surprise starter last night against the Cincinnati Reds, gave up two early home runs and then settled down to pitch an eight-hitter as the Giants won 7-3.

The victory and Pittsburgh's 5-4 loss to the Philadelphia Phils moved the Giants a game ahead of the Pirates. San Francisco now has won four straight and nine out of the last 11.

Marichal sprained the ankle Aug. 7 while running in the Chicago outfield before a game. He re-injured it last Wednesday trying to pitch against St. Louis.

Tommy Helms of the Reds smashed a line drive off Marichal's right foot in the fourth inning last night. One out later, Leo Cardenas put the Reds ahead 3-2 with a two-run homer.

SETTLES DOWN

But Marichal, who had given up a bases-empty homer in the second to Deron Johnson, surrendered only two singles after that as the Reds absorbed their sixth straight defeat. He struck out six and walked none.

"The ankle feels better than the foot. That's sore," Marichal said afterward. "Now I can't limp anymore. With both feet hurt, I'll have to walk straight.

"I don't know what happened but I was tired at the start. Later I got better—not so high — and I feel good now, real good," continued Marichal, who had not won a start since July 25.

Willie Mays took one of his periodic rests. Ollie Brown, who had been benched for poor hitting, played center for Mays and hit a three-run homer that broke a 3-3 tie in the fourth.

Loser Milt Pappas (9-9) issued two walks and allowed Jesus Alou a single before Brown hit his next pitch 400 feet over the right-center field fence. It was Brown's sixth homer.

McCOVEY HOMERS

Manager Herman Franks had planned to start Ray Sadecki against the Reds, but Marichal asked for a chance.

"I told him I wanted him absolutely ready," said Franks, who delayed his decision overnight. "No halfway stuff. If he wasn't completely ready, then we'd hold him out for Los Angeles on Friday and give him three more days."

Marichal said, "Herman came to me (before Tuesday's game) and asked me if I still want to pitch. Now I can go against Los Angeles on Saturday and Gaylord (Perry) can Sunday."

Perry went for his 21st victory today (he's lost two) against Joe Nuxhall (4-4) of the Reds, who were making their farewell appearance at Candlestick Park for 1966.

APPROVAL TO LEAVE

Clay Gets An Okay

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cassius Clay's draft board says it's all right to leave the country for a title fight next month, but the heavyweight champion has no inkling of whether he'll eventually escape the military draft.

A four-hour hearing on Clay's appeal for an exemption brought the disclosure he's been a minister for two years in the Muslim religion he embraces — "preaching and converting people."

Clay came out of the hearing yesterday and said it was "just like I was in a courtroom but there was no decision. When there is one, I'll be the first to hear."

The champion's attorney, Hayden Covington, has asked his draft board to reopen the entire case "so Clay can be considered for an exemption as Muslim minister."

The hearing stemmed from Clay's earlier appeal for a draft deferment as a conscientious objector. Special Judge Lawrence Grauman, appointed by the Justice Department to hear the case, will forward his recommendations back to the department.

A recommendation will then be made to Clay's appeal board here.

Clay disclosed yesterday that the draft board give him permission to leave the counrty for his September fight with Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt, Germany.

The champion was accompanied to yesterday's hearing by his parents. He was carrying a copy of the Koran which "we muslims believe are revalations made to Muhammad by Allah."

Clay, who contended that 90 per cent of his time is taken up now with religious work, said he expected a tough fight from Mildenberger.

"But the first time I lose a professional fight, I'm going to retire and devote my time to religion."

49 49ers Remain On Roster; Mira Starts

MORAGA, Calif. (UPI)— The San Francisco 49ers were down to the league player limit of 49 today after cutting four men and trading a fifth to Pittsburgh for a future draft choice.

Lineman Steve Barnett was swapped to the Steelers. Axed were defensive back Frank Andruski of Utah, end Jack Schraub of California, quarterback Jim LeClair of C.W. Post College, and veteran Dan LaRose.

The 49ers actually have 50 men in camp but rookie flash Stan Hindman is on the injured list. All teams must slice to 43 men by next Tuesday.

Meanwhile, coach Jack Christiansen announced that John Brodie would not start against Atlanta Saturday. Chris said he would stick to his rotation plan which means that George Mira, who started the Prospectors' exhibition opener, will get the nod.

Christiansen said veteran right linebacker Matt Hazeltine could play against Atlanta. Hazeltine has missed the first three exhibition games with a knee injury.

Oakland Raiders Lose Two More Football Players

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP)— Punt return specialist Claude (Hoot) Gibson and tight end Ken Herock are no longer Oakland Raiders today.

And defensive tackle Dave Costa no longer wants to be a member of the American Football League club. He's asked to be traded.

The Raiders announced yesterday that Gibson had retired and Herock had left camp for the second time.

Gibson was retained as scout of college players in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He played for North Carolina State before going to San Diego for two years and Oakland for three.

Herock, a starter for the Raiders the past three years, was used sparingly this exhibition season. Head coach John Rauch said the former West Virginia star left because "I was going to put him on waivers and he didn't want to stay around to see if he was claimed."

Miami Dolphins Will Try Again

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Pro football history will be made tonight if the new Miami Dolphins of the American Football League win their first game ever by defeating the Denver Broncos at Memphis, Tenn.

"The brand new babies" of the AFL, as part-owner Danny Thomas refers to the Dolphins, aren't expected to do so, however, even though the exhibition game pairs two winless teams.

The Broncos, beaten by Buffalo and Kansas City, still are regarded as stronger than the Dolphins, trounced by San Diego, Kansas City and the New York Jets.

NORTH-SOUTH GAME

Those Versatile Quarterbacks . . .

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Quarterbacks are usually all-around athletes, and this is the case with the signal callers who will lead the offensive attacks of the teams in the Kiwanis All-Star game Thursday night in Kentfield.

The game, between the top Marin County senior prep stars of last year, is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. on the College of Marin field.

NORTH QUARTERBACKS

JOHN DOLINSEK is one of the best all-around athletes to come out of Novato High School. He didn't even play football his freshman and soph years, and only played junior varsity football as a junior. But as a senior, he made it to the top, taking all-league and honorable mention All-North Coast honors. His best sport, actually, is baseball, and he had major league scouts looking at him by the time he was a sophomore when he won the Marin Athletic League batting title with a .480 mark. He was on the second team all-league team that year, but was on the No. 1 team as a junior and senior, playing both first base and pitching. He was most valuable player for the Hornets baseballers those two years and repeated as batting champ (.412) last year. In basketball he was also and all-leaguer and MVP, winning honorable mention all-league his junior year. The 6-2, 185-pound Dolinsek will major in physical education at Arizona State.

JAY WIDMER was a two-year letterman for the San Rafael High School Bulldogs, but ran into tough luck last year before the season even began. He was hurt during summer vacation and couldn't even play the first half of the season, his spot being taken by younger brother Roger. The 5-9, 165-pound Widmer had a good year as a junior and was expected to spearhead the offensive attack as a senior, but the injury changed all plans. He was impressive as the Bulldogs quarterback the latter part of the season, however. He also played varsity baseball two years, and likes to hunt with bow and arrow. His future calls for a business administration major at Oregon State University.

SOUTH QUARTERBACKS

BILL INGRAM was a two-year letterman for the Drake High School varsity grid team, earning honorable mention all-league his senior year. A good passer, Ingram is especially good on roll-out patterns because of his running ability. He's not fast, but is a very shifty runner. He is 6 feet tall and weighs 175 pounds. He has a good arm, can run one way and throw to a man on the opposite side, which he has done on occasions. Being a basketball player, he has been on two champion Drake varsity teams. He was quarterback on the 1964 champ grid team and a guard on last year's champion cage team. He was also a varsity baseball player for the Pirates.

DANE DURHAM was quarterback for the Redwood High School freshman team four years ago and then had to sit out the next two seasons because of a back injury. He returned to football his senior year and won himself the starting quarterback job for the Giants. Durham, 5-8 and 175 pounds, was the top passer in the Marin Athletic League last year, improving as the season wore on. His favorite target, Len Peiri, will be a flanker on the South team so that yardage-making duo will get together for a last fling. Durham will enroll at University of San Francisco for this fall semester.

Ticket sales for tomorrow night's Kiwanis All-Star football game have been moving along briskly, with about half the seats already gone, said Kiwanis treasurer Ralph Peterson yesterday.

Sohner Opposes Powerful Sonoma Team In Tourney

Holding visions of a second consecutive tournament championship, Sohner Tree Service takes its 16-game winning streak into the semi-finals of the Windsor Softball Tournament tonight, 8:30 o'clock, at Healdsburg's Memorial Park.

Providing the opposition will be powerful Sonoma Motors, the only other unbeaten team in the double elimination tournament.

Tonight's winner will automatically advance to the finals on Friday while the loser will return to action tomorrow in the loser's bracket.

Four of the eight teams have already been eliminated.

Righthander Morey Swarm, the winning hurler in Sohner's first two tournament victories, will pitch against Sonoma's Walt Tyler.

Swarm has allowed only one earned run in Sohner's wins over Windsor Merchants (3-2) and Sebastopol Merchants (5-1).

Tyler, on the other hand, has hurled shutouts in his two tourney outings.

MARIN'S FAIRWAY SCENE

Golf Etiquette Seminar, Tournament On Calendar

A seminar on golf etiquette and the first San Rafael Men's Amateur Open Tournament are on the near horizon for Marin County golf buffs.

A series of four sessions on proper conduct on the golf links has been scheduled at San Geronimo National course for the Wednesday evenings of Aug. 31, Sept. 7, 14 and 21, each session to start at 8 o'clock.

San Geronimo Professional Tom McHugh and his assistant, Ron Patton, said, "Several rules of etiquette should be followed in golf to make the game more enjoyable for everyone. Not every golfer is familiar with those rules and some are embarrassed to ask questions.

"We feel this seminar can help beginners and veterans alike and we're willing to sit down with them and answer any questions they have."

The etiquette course is open to the public free of charge. Films of the last four Masters tournaments will be shown at the seminar, McHugh said. No registration necessary; just show up at the San Geronimo clubhouse.

MEANWHILE, PLANS for the San Rafael Men's Amateur Open Tournament Sept. 11 at Peacock Gap are progressing, said Chairman Gary Bauer.

The 18-hole medal tourney will offer 20 trophies and several merchandise prizes in low gross and low net scoring plus a division for Callaway handicapping.

A putting contest and two hole-in-one contests will be staged in conjuction with the tournament with a 1966 Chevrolet Chevelle V8 sport coupe will be offered as prize for an ace.

The tournament is sponsored by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the San Rafael Autumn Festival. Open to men and boys, entry fee is $10 and reservations can be made through Bauer at the Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., 1200 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Orioles' Injury List Gets Bigger

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles, already considering the recall or purchase of one or two pitchers, were confronted with another vexing problem today.

New X rays have disclosed that rookie catcher Andy Etchebarren apparently has been playing with a fracture of the third metacarpal bone in his right hand.

"X rays show a growth of new bone," said Harry Dalton, Oriole director of player personnel. "That indicates there was a slight crack in the bone that could not be read in the early X rays.'

Dalton said the club physician suggested Etchebarren not be used unless absolutely necessary.

Etchebarren was struck on the hand by a pitch from Chicago's Dennis Higgins on July 18, and further injured the hand while batting on July 23. At the time, the second injury was described as a muscle pull.

Etchebarren, who caught almost every Baltimore game prior to being hit, has caught only five complete contests since the injury.

The latest medical report on the other Oriole cripples included:

First baseman Boog Powell — still can't close his glove because of a chip fracture on the ring finger of his left hand. Batted, with pain, in practice last night.

Pitcher Wally Bunker — urged to continue throwing, since X rays of his arm show nothing is wrong. He has just returned from the disabled list.

If they find it necessary to acquire or recall a second pitcher, Johnson would be added to the disabled list. That would necessitate shifting catcher Charley Lau to the emergency disabled list — inactivating him for 60 days blocking his return to action for the remainder of the season.

Before making a move involving Barber or Johnson, Dalton said he wanted to make certain "they would be available for the World Series if they are not able to play in September."

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Venus. There are no evening stars.

Richard Cardinal Cushing was born on this day in 1895.

On this day in history:

In 78 A.D., thousands of people were killed and the cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum were buried following the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius in Italy.

In 1814, the British captured Washington and burned the Capitol and the White House.

In 1932, Amelia Earhart Putnam became the first woman to make a transcontinental non-stop flight.

In 1939, President Franlkin Roosevelt appealed to Germany to avoid war and Germany and Russia signed a 10-year non-aggression pact.

A thought for the day — British statesman Edmund Burke said: "Freedom and not servitude is the cure of anarchy; as religion, and not atheism, is the true remedy for superstition."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

A Little Change After 'Finesse' Complains About Bad Finesses

"It's no fun working for you, boss," my poodle remarked the other day. Since my poodle is named Finesse, I knew just what she meant.

Perhaps I have written too much about bad finesses lately, and this is enough to put a sensitive dog off her feed. Today's hand may make amends.

Opening lead — ♡ 8

South played a low heart from dummy at the first trick, and East won with the king. East returned a heart to the queen, and South held his breath until West followed suit.

South led a diamond to the ace, ruffed a diamond in his hand, cashed the ace of trumps and led a low trump toward dummy.

East discarded a heart, and South looked sad. Declarer ruffed another diamond and led a heart to dummy's ace.

West refused to ruff, and South looked sad again. South ruffed another diamond, and West refused to over-ruff.

DRAWS TRUMP

Now South had to lead out the ace of clubs and another club. West stepped up with the queen of clubs to make sure of gaining the lead.

Then West led the queen of spades to draw dummy's last trump. South had to lose another club trick, and was down one.

South should make the hand by taking the trump finesse. As the cards lie, the finesse with dummy's jack of spades prevents the loss of a trump trick.

South is sure of six trumps, two hearts and the other two aces. If South continues the diamonds (slightly risky) he can even make an overtrick.

The contract would be safe even if South happened to lose the finesse with dummy's jack of spades.

In that case the trumps would be 2-2, and dummy's last trump could surely be used to ruff a club.

Massachusetts Mutual Life's San Rafael Agency Is Moved

The San Rafael general agency of Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. headed by Jack H. Meister has moved to 160 Sansome Street, San Francisco, and becomes the company's second general agency in that city.

During 1965, the San Rafael agency sold more than $6.1 million of individual life insurance and has insurance in force of more than 20.6 million dollars. Meister, a resident of San Anselmo, joined Massachusetts Mutual in 1960 as San Rafael district manager and was made general agent in March, 1965. New quarters in San Francisco will now be known as the San Francisco-Meister Agency.

The San Rafael office, formerly at 914 Mission Avenue, has been moved to 880 Las Gallinas Avenue in Northgate and will be maintained as a district office under the San Francisco-Meister Agency.

HERMAN J. SCHLESSELMANN, former San Rafael resident, has been appointed product manager, international marketing, for California Packing Corp. and will be headquartered in San Francisco. He and his family lived in Marin until his transfer in 1963 to Baltimore where he has been district sales manager. They are planning to return to a home in Marin County.

ROBERT L. LLOYD, food processing consultant, has been appointed director of technical services with Corn Industries Research Foundation, Inc., Washington, D.C. — a nationwide trade association of corn refiners. Until his retirement to San Rafael in 1961 he worked on industrial marketing projects for American Maize Products Co., New York. Since then he has been associated with food research and marketing projects at the University of California at Davis. He is the holder of many patents and has published papers on technical subjects and industrial marketing.

KENNETH C. ERICKSON of San Rafael has been promoted to regional public relations manager for Western Airlines. He will be headquartered in San Francisco.

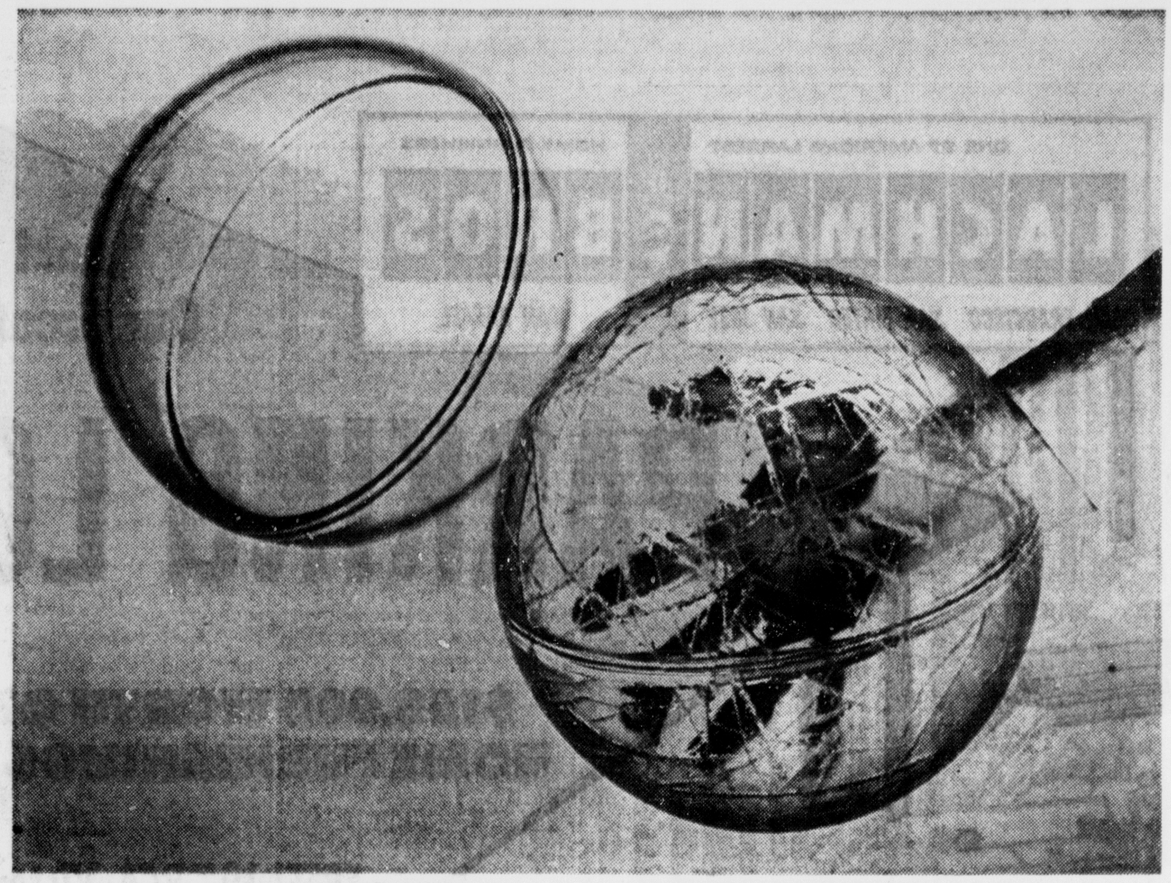
TWO MARIN MEN have been appointed committee chairmen for the 1966 convention of the Structural Engineers Assn. of California at Yosemite Valley Oct. 13-15. Leo Gosliner of Sleepy Hollow, executive vice president of Haas and Haynie Corp. is in charge of the convention's social program. Robert T. Lawson of Mill Valley, principal in Harding-Miller-Lawson and Associates, San Rafael soils engineering firm, is chairman of the finance committee.

NORTH COAST REGIONAL OFFICE of the California tSate Chamber of Commerce has been moved from the Rosenberg Building in Santa Rosa to the McCoy Office Building at 2544 Cleveland Avenue. An open house for businessmen was held last Friday.

Robert L. Smith, a former Army officer, is the comparatively new manager of the North Coast region which comprises seven counties including Marin. He was appointed last April to succeed V. M. (Bob) Moir who retired.

J. E. BROOKS of Santa Cruz is new vice president in manufacturing, production engineering, purchasing, assets, material control and procurement for all three plants of Dorsett Plastics Co. in Santa Clara, San Rafael and Bremen, Ind. He was previously with Sylvania Electronics and Lemkurt Electric Co.

WINNERS of expense-paid trips to Las Vegas at Frank Howard Allen Co. are Mrs. Marianne Frese of the San Rafael office, Harold Strouss of the Mill Valley office, Gene McDaniel of the San Anselmo office and Helen Zweig of the Kent Woodlands office. In a recent sales contest they negotiated over one million dollars in sales during July and were just a little short of half that amount for the first week of August.



THROUGH A GLASS ROUNDLY

Despite deep scratches, the glass sphere on the right survived the same water pressures as the unmarked one—equivalent to those almost six miles beneath the ocean surface. Designed as floats or perhaps even models for future research vehicles, the globes are made by Corning Glass Works, Corning, N. Y. Maximum test pressure was 15,000 pounds per square inch, a thousand times normal atmospheric pressure. (Science Service Photo)

Stock Market Makes Rare Sustained Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today as it made its sharpest advance in several weeks. Trading was moderately active.

It was the market's first sustained rally in eight sessions. Abortive rallies yesterday and Monday were overtaken by declines.

Prices rose from the start in what analysts said was a technical rally based on the market's "oversold" condition. It was a question of bargain-hunting by many small investors as well as institutions.

Glamor stocks such as Polaroid, Xerox, IBM, Raytheon, Fairchild Camera and many others were in the forefront but the advance also included the top automakers, utilities, rails, oils and chemicals.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.3 million shares compared with 9.83 million Tuesday.

Glamor stocks were joined by the more prosaic market wheelhorses in the rise which was described as technical by analysts. Little effect was made on the market by President Johnson's news conference, brokers said.

Xerox rose over 5; Corning Glass about 4; Chicago Great Western preferred more than 4.

Up about 3 were Polaroid and Chicago Great Western common.

Gains of 2 or better were scored by General Dynamics, Seaboard Airline Railroad, General Instrument, Bristol Myers and Collins Radio.

Poor Man In The Streets: Economic Trends Confusing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) —If the public is confused about where today's prosperity may be leading, can you blame it? Just look at what the news offers as clues for the trends ofr tomorrow:

Declining total of personal rising corporate profits and dividends.

A drop in machine tool orders but an increase in the backlog of orders.

Slowdown in auto sales and housing starts but a stepping up of total industrial activity.

And to all these trends that at first glance seem to contradict each other might be added the situation in Washington.

The monetary authorities, worried by the inflationary signs and fearing the overheating of the economy as the 67th month of the business upswing nears, are clamping down on the supply of credit and exhorting bankers to make fewer loans to business.

But the administration and Congress, preoccupied perhaps with the approaching congressional elections, are apparently leaving the fiscal problems of higher taxation and increasing government spending for reappraisal at the end of the year.

The confused man in the street can only judge for himself, and as best he can, what is likely to happen in the months ahead.

Housewives are trying to stretch family budgets around rising prices—whether it's for food, or rent, or transportation, or medical care.

Businessmen are wheedling their bankers for top priority for loans wanted for new plants and equipment or for increased activity at old plants.

Bankers and savings and loan associations are competing for the investor's savings so that they can lend to business or finance home mortgages.

And many families have been priced out of the housing market by rising down payments and higher mortgage interest rates.

All of these factors, usually classed as brakes on the boom, have so far produced very little of a slowdown in over-all industrial activity and consumer spending. The pace isn't as fast as in the first months of the year but almost everyone considered that pace dangerously swift. But the economy in general is still expanding—and increased defense outlays seem likely to keep it going.
